VICTIM IMPACT STATEMENT

JUST FOR KIDS

JUST FOR KIDS

Revised 9/2019
TO PARENTS: If your child is too young to read or is just learning to read, you may want to help her/him fill out the Victim Impact Statement. When helping her/him, read the directions aloud. Talk about what feelings are – happy, sad, mad, scared, or any other feelings you think may apply. You can discuss what your child may want to think about when s/he is drawing or writing on the statement. Please do not tell your child what to draw or write. This is her/his chance to explain how s/he is feeling about what happened. For example, if your child would rather draw a picture of a bird, a boat, or write a story about bumblebees, this is OK, too.

If s/he becomes uncomfortable in any way while filling out the Victim Impact Statement, reassure her/him that s/he does not have to fill out the form unless s/he wants to.
