Overview

In accordance with the 88th Texas Legislature, General Appropriations Act, Article V, Rider 43, the following evaluation report on Fiscal Year (FY) 2022-23, includes measurements of effectiveness, qualitative program analysis, and a progress report on the programs and services provided through the Battering Intervention and Prevention Program (BIPP) grants for FY 2024. The Texas Department of Criminal Justice-Community Justice Assistance Division (TDCJ-CJAD) assists its collaborative partners by promoting safer communities through rehabilitative services for individuals and by protecting victims' rights through the Battering Intervention and Prevention Project.

The Project, as defined in Article 42.141 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, includes statewide activities by the TDCJ-CJAD and the statewide nonprofit, the Texas Council on Family Violence (TCFV), as well as funding for local battering intervention and prevention programs. BIPPs provide Texas communities with specialized services that increase victim safety, hold batterers accountable, provide an alternative to incarceration, challenge a person's beliefs, and teach the fundamentals of leading a non-violent lifestyle. Although there are BIPPs that provide services to women who commit intimate partner violence against males and BIPPs that provide services to same sex perpetrators, both male and female, this report specifically tracks males who committed violence against their female intimate partners.

As required by statute, BIPPs must coordinate efforts with other community agencies such as local shelter centers to offer support services to victims and offer training to law enforcement, prosecutors, judges, community supervision officers, and others on the dynamics of family violence.

Statewide activities include a community educational campaign, monitoring compliance with guidelines, and providing technical assistance to BIPPs. Through these activities, the TDCJ-CJAD, the TCFV, BIPP providers, and family violence programs have developed the framework to provide services.

Funding History

With the 71st Texas Legislature's enactment of House Bill 2335, the Project's initial appropriation was $400,000 per year, from the Diversion Program (DP) funding strategy. Additional information on funding is provided in the appendices.

Texas Council on Family Violence Activities

The Texas Council on Family Violence (TCFV) provides technical assistance to BIPPs, such as training for service providers and other professionals, operations and accreditation, guidelines, monthly activity reports, community education, audits, and TDCJ-CJAD funding. TCFV receives a TDCJ-CJAD grant to provide a range of services to the BIPP providers who deliver the program to the program participants.

TCFV activities for FY 2022-2023 included audits, training, technical assistance, and guideline reviews.

- TCFV updated audit reporting materials, which included a pre-audit questionnaire, audit report template, and corrective action plan. Additionally, TCFV developed a "recommendations for best practices" template to provide BIPPs with ways to strengthen their programs. TCFV completed 24 programmatic audits and three technical assistance audits.
- TCFV collaborated with the TDCJ-CJAD and current BIPPs to update protocols for virtual and hybrid BIPP services and delivery, improving clients' accessibility to BIPP services.
- TCFV received 2,127 requests for technical assistance during the FY 2022-2023 biennium. Technical assistance included technical assistance consultations as well as filling information requests related to BIPP operations or services.
- TCFV continues to maintain a BIPP Facilitators guide on their website and a listserv that includes resources, strategies for program development, TDCJ-

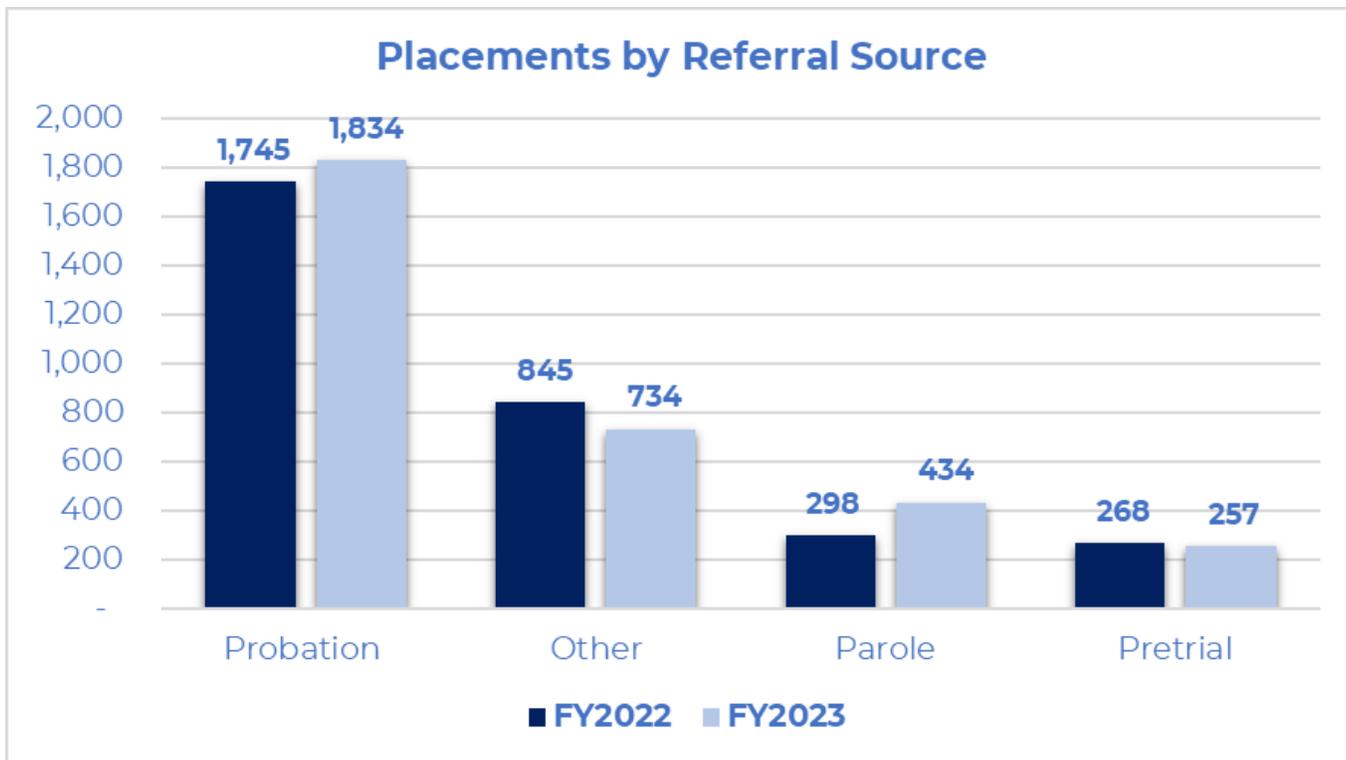

CJAD grant information, and information about BIPP training opportunities. TCFV forwarded 147 training opportunities to their BIPP listserv. They hosted 40 BIPP calls with 1,069 attendees to discuss different issues related to the BIPP programs, such as improving coordinated community responses. In FY 2023, TCFV began offering voluntary BIPP Monthly Peer to Peer supervision, which is currently offered on the second Thursday of each month.

- TCFV continues to hold a statewide conference and a BIPP conference, both of which provide an opportunity to receive approved training hours. TCFV approved 111 trainings for TDCJ-CJAD Family Violence and BIPP training, totaling 284.75 hours. Additionally, TCFV hosted 17 trainings that served approximately 500 attendees. Online training modules available on TCFV’s website were accessed by 1,660 participants during the FY 2022 – 2023 biennium.

Statewide Number of Placements for FY 2022 and FY 2023

Persons placed in BIPPs may be referred by probation, parole, district attorneys’ offices, pretrial agencies, defense attorneys, judges, Child Protective Services, or voluntary admissions. At a minimum, these participants completed an intake session and entered the program during the fiscal year. There were 3,156 placements in BIPPs in FY 2022 and 3,259 placements in FY 2023.

Outcomes and Outputs

BIPPs provide Texas communities with specialized services that increase victim safety, hold batterers accountable, provide an alternative to incarceration, challenge a person's beliefs, and teach the fundamentals of leading a non-violent lifestyle. BIPPs represent a crucial tool for ending family violence in this context. BIPPs strive to end family violence by offering educational sessions to men who batter. BIPPs afford batterers the opportunity to integrate back into society and to end family violence.

BIPPs must comply with the BIPP Accreditation Guidelines to maintain accreditation. The guidelines do not mandate a specific curriculum, but the TDCJ-CJAD must approve any curricula used by the programs. The TDCJ-CJAD requires that curricula be based on an intervention model that recognizes family violence as the result of one person in an intimate relationship systematically using tactics of emotional and physical abuse to maintain power and control over the other person. Curricula must encourage positive behavioral change without shaming batterers while incorporating approaches that create dialogue and do not solely lecture batterers. Employees must be trained by the curriculum developer and adhere to the approaches and content specified by the Guidelines to ensure fidelity.

All accredited BIPPs are required to report their program activity information in aggregate counts. This data is used to calculate completion rates for the programs.

- Successful Completions include all participants who successfully completed at least 18 weekly sessions during the fiscal year.
- Unsuccessful Completions include all participants who exited a BIPP during the fiscal year for reasons such as termination for excessive absences or not following group rules. Additionally, participants may exit the program if the program length exceeds their supervision term.

Completion rates are calculated by dividing the successful completions by the sum of the successful and unsuccessful completions.

Completion Rates for Probation Referrals Only

The statewide completion rates for probationers increased between FY 2022 and FY 2023. The Community Supervision and Corrections Departments (probation) referred over half of the persons placed in BIPPs each fiscal year, making probation the largest referral source for BIPPs.

Qualitative Analysis

BIPPs that receive TDCJ-CJAD grant awards from dedicated BIPP funds appropriated by the Texas Legislature are audited every two years by TCFV. These audits evaluate the degree to which these BIPPs adhere to applicable accreditation guidelines and grant conditions. TCFV updates audit procedures each biennium to review alternate guidelines for compliance based on feedback from TDCJ-CJAD and observations made during the previous audits. The qualitative analysis reviews this audit procedure and highlights the outcomes of the audits conducted during the FY 2022-2023 biennium.

TCFV Audit Procedure

During the FY 2022-2023 biennium, 24 funded BIPPs were audited by TCFV. One BIPP was not included in the analysis since it only received a technical assistance consultation during the biennium. The audit process starts with a pre-audit questionnaire sent by TCFV to the BIPP. Each program must complete and return the questionnaire promptly to be considered compliant with this step. Along with the pre-audit questionnaire, the BIPP also provides documentation regarding staff development and training hours. Staff working directly with batterers and/or supervising staff who work directly with batterers must receive 40 hours of TDCJ-

CJAD approved training within six months of their employment start date. The initial number of required staff training hours are reduced for certain credentialed staff, such as licensed counselors, social workers, marriage and family therapists, psychologists, and psychiatrists. These staff must have been licensed for four or more years and meet other requirements, as outlined in the BIPP Guidelines. BIPPs must provide on-going training for staff in two-year intervals after their initial year of employment. Finally, BIPPs must provide supervision for all staff that work with batterers, providing a minimum of one hour of supervision every four weeks. TCFV creates a detailed breakdown of each staff member's training hours, time with the program, and supervision to determine if each staff member is in compliance.

The next phase of the audit is reviewing case files to ensure that all required documentation is compliant with TDCJ-CJAD guidelines. BIPPs are required to provide monthly progress reports and exit notifications for each client to referral sources. Exit reports provided to referral sources are required to include the participant's participation level, attendance, and level of accountability. Additionally, BIPPs must conduct intake assessments that collect information on past use of any violence towards the victim or others, as well as information relating to the nature of the current relationship with the victim, substance use, and abuse or neglect of children.

BIPPs must also develop written policies that address victim contact procedures, either by the provider or victim-initiated contact. Exit reports sent to victims must include information such as the participant's date of exit, inform victims that their information will not be disclosed to participants, and that victims have a choice to initiate or terminate contact with the program. The exit report must include language stating that "participation in or completion of the program does not guarantee the absence of future violence." The exit report must be provided to the victim within five days of the participant exiting the program. Victims may choose not to be contacted by the BIPP provider. During this audit phase, TCFV also reviews program compliance with confidentiality statements, individualized plans, and data reporting requirements.

TCFV's audit process also includes a group observation where TCFV staff will attend a BIPP group to observe compliance around program format and group facilitation. BIPP providers must adhere to guidelines such as avoiding collusion, encouraging positive behavioral changes, and holding participants accountable for instances of denial, blaming, minimizing, justifying, and battering-involved choices. BIPP groups must be held in a secure, private space, in person or virtually. Currently, BIPPs are required to have an approved waiver to conduct virtual groups. Groups must not last more than two hours a week, be held for at least 18 weeks, and must not be anger management based or provide couples counseling. TCFV will audit the program's curriculum to ensure they are utilizing pre-approved or individually approved materials in accordance with TDCJ-CJAD guidelines.

TCFV also reviews programs for compliance with certain special grant conditions. The special grant conditions reviewed this biennium include submitting accurate monthly activity reports to TDCJ-CJAD and maintaining collaboration with local courts, criminal and civil justice agencies, prosecutors, law enforcement, victim services agencies, correctional agencies, and community supervision agencies. Grant requirements state that BIPP services funded by TDCJ-CJAD must only serve adult males who have committed intimate partner violence against their female partner and develop a policy that outlines the program's community education, advocacy, and collaborative efforts to end intimate partner violence and abuse against women.

Lastly, TCFV issues corrective action plans for programs that include a list of guidelines that need to be met and recommendations for the program so that they may meet 100% compliance. The BIPP is required to provide details as to how to address non-compliance in the corrective action plan and then return it to TCFV. The TCFV recommendations listed are best practices and are intended to strengthen the program. Any recommendations the program chooses to implement are also reported to TCFV.

TCFV calculates an audit compliance score that shows a BIPP's degree of compliance with Accreditation Guidelines and TDCJ-CJAD Grant Conditions. The audit compliance score is calculated by dividing the total number of points earned in the audit by the total possible number of points that could be earned. Six BIPPs earned a compliance score of 100% while 18 BIPPs earned compliance scores between 69% and 96%. The average overall compliance score was 92%.

TDCJ-CJAD Audit Review

TDCJ-CJAD conducted an analysis of the 18 audits that did not result in a 100% compliance score. A total of 42 findings of non-compliance were noted among the 18 BIPPs. For this study, these findings of non-compliance were grouped into four different categories, based on the 13 BIPP Guidelines associated with the non-compliance findings. These groups include staff training and development, program format and reporting requirements, notification requirements, and case management. The table below highlights these groups, the number of findings of non-compliance within each one, and the number of audits where non-compliance was noted.

FY 2022-FY2023 BIPP AUDIT FINDINGS
Non-Compliance Group	Findings of Non-Compliance	Number of Audits Indicating Non-Compliance

Staff and Training Development

Most instances of non-compliance (40%) were regarding staff training and development. BIPP Accreditation Guideline # 2 states that accredited programs shall require new staff to take 40 hours of training (15 hours in family violence and 25 hours in battering intervention) within the first six months of employment. Two BIPP programs were not compliant with this requirement. Once the initial training requirements are met, staff must complete on-going training (staff development), which must be completed in two-year intervals after the first year of employment. This ongoing training is required per BIPP Accreditation Guideline # 3. The requirements for initial and on-going training can be reduced if staff meet certain requirements as discussed in the guidelines. Seven BIPPs did not meet the requirements for staff development. The last area of staff training and development that some BIPPs were not compliant with regarding staff supervision. Guideline # 4 states that accredited programs shall provide supervision for staff who work directly with batterers and must document a minimum of one hour of supervision once every four weeks. Eight BIPPs were found to be non-compliant with this guideline.

Program Format and Reporting Requirements

Of the non-compliance audit findings in this study, 21% were due to program format and reporting requirements. Five BIPPs had a finding of non-compliance in this area. Two of the five BIPPs did not collect all data required by Guideline # 27. One BIPP was not using a TDCJ approved curriculum during the review period of the audit. All five BIPPs were found to be in non-compliance with Guideline # 13. This Guideline states that accredited programs shall offer services in which the primary approach is direct intervention with batterers in a group format that holds them accountable for their abusive behavior. Facilitators shall avoid colluding and shall encourage batterers to work toward positive behavioral changes.

Notification Requirements

Of the 42 findings of non-compliance, 11 were noted in audits regarding notification requirements (26%). Guideline # 19 requires accredited programs to provide an exit report to the BIPP referral source within five business days of a batterer exiting the program. Exit reports must include the batterer's attendance, level of participation, and level of taking responsibility. The exit report must also state that participation in or completion of the program does not guarantee the absence of future violence. Four BIPPs were found to be in non-compliance with this guideline.

Guidelines # 24 and # 25 provide requirements for victim contact and notification. Guideline # 24 requires that accredited programs develop and implement written procedures for victim contact when the program initiates victim contact and/or when the victim initiates contact. Accredited programs must also inform victims of the limits of confidentiality and neither persuade nor coerce victims to waive confidentiality. Four BIPPs were not in compliance with this guideline. Guideline # 25 states that accredited programs shall provide written notification by mail to victims within five business days of batterers completing assessment and exiting (completion or termination) from the program. Both the entrance and exit report shall include notification that participation in or completion of the program does not guarantee the absence of future violence. Exit reports can only include factual information that can be verified, including the date the batterer exited the program. Three BIPPs did not meet the requirements of Guideline # 25.

Case Management

Of the 42 findings of non-compliance in the BIPP audits reviewed, 12% were classified as case management issues. Four BIPPs had findings of non-compliance in this area. Three of the four BIPPs were found to be out of compliance with Guideline # 7, which provides requirements for a program's written confidentiality policy and statement. The statement must be signed by all program participants. One BIPP at the time of their audit did not have a case record management system that met the requirements of Guideline # 5.

Analysis Summary

This qualitative analysis reviewed the audit procedures and findings in 24 BIPP audits conducted by TCFV during the FY 2022-2023 biennium. Six funded BIPPs were found to be 100% compliant with BIPP Accreditation Guidelines and grant conditions of the TDCJ-CJAD. Overall, BIPPs had a compliance rate of 92%.

In audits of 18 BIPPs, 42 findings of noncompliance were found collectively with the number of findings varying across the 18 audits. Of the findings of non-compliance, 40% were related to staff training while 26% of findings were associated with notification and exit report requirements. BIPP Guidelines that provided requirements for program format, program curriculum, and case management resulted in 38% of the non-compliance findings.

Progress Report for Fiscal Year 2024

Programs and Services Provided through BIPP Grants Fiscal Year 2024

The 88th Texas Legislature allocated $5 million for the biennium ($2,500,000 per fiscal year) for BIP Programs and Services. The funding allowed the TDCJ-CJAD to fund 27 programs, including TCFV. The TDCJ-CJAD, in consultation with TCFV, updated the methodology used in FY 2024-2025 by removing one scoring element as well as adjusting each scoring element's weight. One new program received grant funding. An overview of the FY 2022-2023 grant funding process is included in Appendix A.

Program Highlights

While BIPPs have moved beyond the COVID-19 Pandemic, programming has been forever impacted by the introduction of new and innovative ways in which BIPP services are delivered. BIPPs continue to offer virtual programming provided they have been approved by TDCJ-CJAD to do so.

TDCJ-CJAD hosted the 2024 Virtual Skills Conference which offered several BIPP related training opportunities for BIPP specific training hours.

In addition to program delivery changes, TDCJ and TCFV worked closely to review and incorporate meaningful changes to the BIPP Guidelines. The guidelines were updated for clarity and restructured for flow and content. The most significant change to the guidelines is the added option for eligible programs to provide virtual programming without the requirement to apply for a waiver. Programs must meet certain requirements outlined in the updated guidelines. The new guidelines will be effective September 1, 2024.

Summary

BIPPs in Texas work to eliminate male to female intimate partner violence by providing services to batterers, promoting safety for victims, and bringing about social change necessary to end battering and other forms of abuse.

The funding appropriated by the Legislature enabled 9,473 men to be served in BIPPs, with approximately 69% completing successfully. Completion rates increased between FY 2022 and FY 2023. Probation referred over half of the persons placed into a BIPP each fiscal year.

Six of the 24 BIPP audits conducted by TCFV during the FY 2022-2023 biennium had an audit score of 100% while 18 did not. The overall compliance score for the 24 audits was 92%.

Appendix A

FY 2022-2023 Funding Methodology

During the FY 2022-2023 grant award process, programs that were fully accredited, consistently reported program information, maintained non-profit status for five or more years, and/or were located in an unserved or underserved area of the state were prioritized for potential new grant funding. For continued BIPP grant requests, the TDCJ-CJAD considered program benchmarks. Six scoring elements were used to determine program funding. Each element's percentage of the total program score was determined by the TDCJ-CJAD in collaboration with the TCFV. The six scoring elements included:

PERFORMANCE MEASURE	WEIGHT
1. Average of the two most recent audit scores	55%
2. Successful completion rate as compared to statewide average rate	15%
3. Successful completion rate as compared to its prior completion rate	10%
4. Program monthly data report accuracy and timeliness	10%
5. Program quarterly financial report timeliness	5%
6. Service hours per participant served	5%

The benchmarks were established by scoring each program based on the six performance measures. Each program's total score was compared to the statewide benchmark. In addition to the scoring elements outlined above, other considerations included program funding amount per participant served along with geographical location of the program and documented information from TCFV program audits.
