In situations where temporary structures have been erected (e.g., tents) the auditor should use their discretion to determine whether to include the structure in the overall count of buildings. As a general rule, if a temporary structure is regularly or routinely used to hold or house residents, or if the temporary structure is used to house or support operational functions for more than a short period of time (e.g., an emergency situation), it should be included in the overall count of buildings.	2
Number of resident housing units: Enter 0 if the facility does not have discrete housing units. DOJ PREA Working Group FAQ on the definition of a housing unit: How is a "housing unit" defined for the purposes of the PREA Standards? The question has been raised in particular as it relates to facilities that have adjacent or interconnected units. The most common concept of a housing unit is architectural. The generally agreed-upon definition is a space that is enclosed by physical barriers accessed through one or more doors of various types, including commercial-grade swing doors, steel sliding doors, interlocking sally port doors, etc. In addition to the primary entrance and exit, additional doors are often included to meet life safety codes. The unit contains sleeping space, sanitary facilities (including toilets, lavatories, and showers), and a dayroom or leisure space in differing configurations. Many facilities are designed with modules or pods clustered around a control room. This multiple-pod design provides the facility with certain staff efficiencies and economies of scale. At the same time, the design affords the flexibility to separately house residents of differing security levels, or who are grouped by some other operational or service scheme. Generally, the control room is enclosed by security glass, and in some cases, this allows residents to see into neighboring pods. However, observation from one unit to another is usually limited by angled site lines. In some cases, the facility has prevented this entirely by installing one-way glass. Both the architectural design and functional use of these multiple pods indicate that they are managed as distinct housing units.	59

The narrative should describe the techniques the auditor used to sample documentation and select interviewees, and the auditor's process for the site review.

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) re-certification audit for the Brazos Valley Council on Alcohol and Substance Abuse (BVCASA) in Bryan, Texas was conducted on February 20 & 21, 2020, to determine the continued compliance of the Prison Rape Elimination Act Standards. The audit was conducted by Noelda Martinez, United States Department of Justice Prison Rape Elimination Act Certified Auditor. The previous PREA Audit was conducted by Kyle Barrington on February 22-24, 2017. The previous auditor completed the audit with 41 met standards. The facility contract was secured through Martinez Auditing Services, LLC. The contract described the specific work required according to the DOJ standards and PREA audit handbook to include the pre-audit, onsite audit and post-audit.

The facility was provided with the pre-audit questionnaire and process map six to eight weeks prior to the audit. The facility was prepared by forwarded the information by mail to the auditor as required. The facility included an email with instructions on retrieving the confidential information. The information received included the pre-audit questionnaire, supporting documentation and required PREA data. The auditor verified the process by a date-stamped photo. Residents were provided with the opportunity to write the auditor in a confidential manner. The notices were posted throughout the facility to include visitation, housing areas, resident work areas, and offices. The auditor observed the notice of audit posted during the site review and through random resident interviews identifying the notice in both English and Spanish.

During the random resident interviews, the auditor asked the residents if they were aware of the Audit Notice with the auditor's information, and the random responses were "yes". During the site review, the auditor randomly asked residents if they could point out the auditors posted information to ensure it was made available. The information was posted for the resident population in the housing areas. The auditor did not encounter any difficulties while completing any portion of the audit. The facility provided the auditor with unfettered access to areas requested by the auditor to include chemical, electrical and janitor closets. There was no pressure during the audit or prohibited access by the facility administration during the site review, the facility administration was transparent with policies, procedures, resident and staff interviews. Good communication was established and maintained throughout the duration of the audit with the Executive Director and facility staff.

The Brazos Valley Council on Alcohol and Substance Abuse (BVCASA) is located on 405 W. 28th Street, Bryan, Texas 77803 and 300 S. Sims Avenue in Bryan, Texas 77803. The facility is a private not for profit alcohol or drug rehabilitation center. BVCASA is a 501 (c) 3 non-profit founded in 1984 whose mission is to provide quality prevention, intervention and treatment services resulting in increased wellness and security in the Brazos Valley. BVCASA has provided treatment services to offenders since 1994 when initial funding from Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse funded the Transitional Living Program Level IV (Trinity Living Center Therapeutic Treatment Community-TLC).

In 2006, BVCASA secured a contract with TDCJ for 24 male and 78 female supportive residential beds. In 2010, BVCASA increased its total beds to 126, a number that was interchangeable between males and females based on availability of placements. Total residential capacity increased again to 183 in 2016 when the McCaffrey House was converted from an outpatient to a residential treatment facility. In 2019, BVCASA added intensive residential relapse beds and currently has the following capacity:

- 16 male Therapeutic Community (TC) intensive residential relapse beds
- 16 female Substance Abuse Counseling Program (SACP) intensive residential relapse beds
- 140 female supportive Therapeutic Community (TC) beds
- 30 male supportive Therapeutic Community (TC) beds
- Total combined capacity is 202 beds

In 2017, BVCASA became PREA certified and continues its implementation of well-formed PREA procedures that have been fully integrated in the culture of the agency. Facility 1: Community Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Services 405 West 28th Street, Bryan, Texas 77803. The facility is also known as the "Horizon" building, it is a four-story former hospital containing approximately 35,000 square feet of usable space. It is legally described as City of Bryan block 157, Lot 1 through 10, which includes all property bordered by W. 28th Street, S. Sterling Avenue, W. 29th Street, and Sims Avenue. The facility is currently in use for Phase 1 Adult Supportive Residential services for both males and females. The males currently occupy the 3rd floor, females occupy the 2nd floor, with staff offices on the first floor, and a basement which houses group rooms, file rooms and a room with donated clothing and BVCASA-issued hygiene items. The Horizon building is located downtown Bryan, with access to public transit and walking distance to several local stores, churches and employment opportunities. Other advantages to this building's downtown location are its proximity to the Bryan Fire Department, Police Department, Adult Probation, the Bryan court system, and local community resources/social service agencies. This site is also close to the local non-profit hospital and MHMR. The Horizon building is current on all building inspections and complies with local, city, and county ordinances. It is compliant with ADA requirements within an elevator and multiple wheelchair accessible restrooms.

The Community Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Service on 300 South Sims Avenue, Bryan, Texas 77803 is also known as the "McCaffrey House", and is a smaller facility on the same campus as the Horizon building approximately 3,352 square feet in size. This facility was converted from an outpatient to a residential treatment facility in 2016 and is licensed for 30 beds, with a monitor's office, counselors office, and large group room, which doubles at this facility as the day room. The facility shares a parking lot with the Horizon building, clients housed at this facility also use the Horizon building for meals, signing in/out, and medication self-administration.

The McCaffrey House is also ADA compliant, with a wheelchair accessible restroom for clients, and is current on all inspections. The facility mission statement is to provide quality substance abuse prevention, intervention, and treatment services leading to improved health, wellness, and security in the Brazos Valley.
