NARRATIVE

A PREA audit of the TDCJ George Beto Unit was conducted September 13\textsuperscript{th} – 15\textsuperscript{th}, 2017 by Chris Sweney, Certified PREA auditor. The audit of the Beto Unit was conducted in conjunction with their American Correctional Association accreditation audit. As part of the accreditation audit a full tour of the facility was conducted along with three days of file reviews and staff and inmate interviews. The tour included all area of the main and annex facilities including inmate housing, segregation, intake (draft), kitchen, laundry, recreation, control, all program areas, medical and administration. Pre Audit posters were observed in all housing units and common areas. No inmates specifically requested to speak with this auditor nor had this auditor received any written correspondence from inmates or staff prior to the onsite visit.

On the first day of the audit the Safe Prisons PREA Manager provided the auditor with a roster of staff assigned to each shift. A total of ten (12) random staff interviews from the day and evening shift were conducted. Specialized staff interviews included the Warden, Safe Prisons PREA Manager, the Intake Supervisor who also does the initial screening of inmates when arriving at the facility; Investigators from the Office of Inspector General who are responsible for PREA related investigations as well as medical staff, program staff and volunteers.

On the following two days of the audit Safe Prisons PREA Manager provided the auditor with a roster of all (3422) inmates at the facility. Inmates were randomly selected by the auditor. At least one inmate from each housing unit and the trustee camp was interviewed. There was one inmate who spoke limited English interviewed with no issues. No inmates where identified that had hearing or visual impairments. Two inmates who identified as either gay or transgendered were also interviewed. A total of 49 random inmate interviews were completed. The Beto Unit reported thirty-one instances of either sexual abuse or harassment for the audit period. Nine of these reported incidents where referred for criminal investigation. The PREA response and investigative process was thoroughly reviewed and found to be well above standard.
DESCRIPTION OF FACILITY CHARACTERISTICS

The George Beto Unit is a maximum-security facility operated by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) for adult male offenders. It is located in Tennessee Colony, Anderson County, Texas, and is approximately 120 miles southeast of Dallas, Texas. The Beta Unit was open in June 1980. There are 27 buildings as well as 58 residential housing structures. The main facility is situated on 51.9 acres that is surrounded by a double chain-link fence system with eight feet between the fences. The interior fence is ten feet high with a roll of razor ribbon at the top. The exterior fence, with a three-inch razor mesh pattern, is also ten feet high with a roll of razor ribbon at the base, at the middle and on the top. The roof edge of the main building also has a roll of razor ribbon. There are four watch towers adjacent to the exterior fence to provide for perimeter security. One armed mobile unit patrols the perimeter 24 hours a day, seven days a week. There are two vehicle entrances and two pedestrian entrances. Visitors are screened by an officer outside the secure perimeter and also a picture identification must be viewed by the picket/ tower officer via a camera system prior to the exterior gate being opened.

Inside the secure perimeter are the main facility, industrial shops, vocational buildings, and the regional maintenance office. The main building has a corridor approximately one-quarter mile in length and is a "telephone-pole" design. The building is designated as north and south sections with the 23-bed infirmary, kitchen, two dining halls, laundry, unit supply, maintenance and boiler plant located on the east side of the central corridor. The west side of the main corridor has an education building, visitation, administrative offices, and chapel. There is a gymnasium on each end of the corridor as well as access to recreational yards on the north and south sections. Adjacent to the center of the corridor are a north shower and south shower, each containing 100-group showers. There are 12 inmate-housing wings located directly off the main corridor on the north side and eight inmate-housing wings on the south side. Each wing has 33 cells on each of three tiers.

The Beto Unit has one inmate-housing wing that is used for in-transit inmates and protective custody investigation inmates. The Trusty Camp is located outside the secure perimeter across the road from the main facility and has three dormitories with a total capacity of 321. Minimum-security inmates are housed at this location and provide support services such as grounds keeping, kennel, agriculture, transportation garage, facility garage, power substation well house, waste treatment, and community service projects.

Other buildings outside the secure perimeter include the following: armory, power substation, well house, waste treatment, garage, transportation, water treatment plant, kennel, equine stables, employee housing, bachelor officer quarters, and agricultural operations.

The south school is utilized as a regional training academy. There are multiple classrooms and also access to the south gymnasium. Pre-service training and annual/refresher training is conducted in this area.

The George Beto Unit is a linear style facility and has a staffing plan which accounts for generally accepted detention and correctional practices; TDCJ follows applicable State and local laws, regulations and standards to determine staffing levels. The Beto Unit has no Judicial, Federal or other internal or external findings of inadequate staffing. All components of the facility’s physical plant, composition of the inmate population and placement of supervisory staff are also considered.

Deviations from the staffing plan are documented and reported to the Warden. Staffing requirements are assessed annually and adjustments are made if necessary.

Unannounced rounds are completed by supervisors on each shift and documented in a permanent log book. The Beto Unit provided a copy of their tour logs with the pre-audit documentation which shows this as a regular practice. During the onsite visit, supervisors demonstrate how unannounced rounds are documented. All inmate interviews indicated that supervisors as well as administrative staff made regular rounds. Documentation of the administrative investigation is maintained by the OIG and outcomes are shared with the Warden and other appropriate staff. Interviews conducted with investigators from the OIG demonstrated a significant understanding of their responsibilities and the responsibilities. The roles and responsibilities of each department are clearly defined in policy. The agency’s policy is available on the TDCJ website.

TDCJ’s training for staff pertaining to sexual abuse prevention and reporting predates the PREA requirements. PREA training addresses all requirements including their zero tolerance policy, the agency’s policy and procedures for prevention, reporting and response to a sexual assault or sexual harassment incident, and the dynamics of sexual abuse and harassment in a confinement setting, common reactions of sexual abuse and sexual harassment victims, how to detect and respond to signs of threatened and actual sexual abuse, how to avoid inappropriate relationships with inmates, how to communicate effectively and professionally with inmates, and how to comply with relevant laws related to mandatory reporting of sexual abuse to outside authorities.
This training is required for all employees during their first year of employment. Refresher is provided to staff on an annual basis. During interviews, officers were very aware of their responsibilities to protect victims, respond to allegations and refer reports for further investigation. Each officer is provided a pocket card identifying the steps to take as a first responder and how to report to the Office of Inspector General.

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) screens all inmates for risk of victimization and abusiveness upon arrival. The screening is completed by PREA/SAFE Prisons within the first couple hours of arrival. The screening instrument includes whether the inmate has a mental, physical, or developmental disability, the age and physical build of the inmate, previously incarceration history, whether the inmate’s criminal history is exclusively nonviolent, prior convictions for sex offenses, whether the inmate is or is perceived to be gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, intersex, or gender nonconforming, past sexual victimization, self-perception of vulnerability and civil immigration status.

Within the first thirty (30) days of arrival at the facility, staff reassesses the inmate’s risk of victimization or abusiveness based upon any additional, relevant information received by the facility since the intake screening.

Inmates are not disciplined for refusing answer questions during the screening process. Information obtained during the initial assessment and reassessment is placed in the inmate’s classification file. Only authorized staff has access to these files.

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) uses information from the risk assessment to inform housing, bed, work, education, and program assignments with the goal of keeping separate those inmates at high risk of being sexually victimized from those at high risk of being sexually abusive. The Beto Unit makes individualized determinations about how to ensure the safety of each inmate.

Transgender or intersex inmate’s housing is considered on a case-by-case basis, placement considers the inmate’s health and safety, and whether the placement would present management or security problems. Transgender or intersex inmate’s placement is reassessed as needed.

Transgender or intersex inmate’s own view with respect to his or her own safety is given consideration.

Transgender and intersex inmates are given the opportunity to shower separately from other inmates.

The Beto Unit does not place lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, or intersex inmates in a dedicated unit based solely on identification or status.

TDCJ policy on protective custody prohibits the placement of inmates at high risk for sexual victimization in the involuntary segregated housing unless an assessment of all available alternatives has been made, and a determination has been made that there is no available alternative means of separation from likely abusers. If an involuntary segregated housing placement is made the placement is review on a weekly basis until other housing can be found. Segregated housing assignment will not exceed a period of thirty (30) days. Inmates placed in protective custody shall have access to programs privileges, education, and work opportunities to the extent possible. If restrictions occur, the facility documents the restrictions, duration of the limitation, and reasons for the limitation. The George Beto Unit did not report any inmates on protective custody status for reporting sexual abuse.

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) has procedures which allow for multiple internal and external ways for inmates to report sexual abuse, sexual harassment, and retaliation. PREA reporting methods are shared with inmates at intake, during orientation, in the PREA brochure, and on posters throughout the facility. TDCJ Inmates may report allegations through a third party or send an anonymous report. The inmates may also use a toll free hotline (800-535-0283) to report sexual abuse. Inmate interviews indicated they were comfortable reporting sexual abuse or sexual harassment and they knew the different methods available for reporting. Staff indicated through interviews they were aware of the methods available to them to report sexual abuse and sexual harassment of inmates.

The Beto Unit does not impose a time limit on when an inmate may submit a grievance regarding an allegation of sexual assault/abuse. TDCJ does not require an inmate to use any informal grievance process, or to otherwise attempt to resolve with staff, an alleged incident of sexual assault/abuse. The Beto Unit ensures that an inmate who alleges sexual assault/abuse may submit a grievance without submitting it to a staff member who is the subject of the complaint, and such grievance is not referred to a staff member who is the subject of the complaint. TDCJ issues a final decision on the merits of any portion of a grievance alleging sexual assault/abuse within 90 days of the initial filing of the grievance. Computation of the 90-day time period does not include time consumed by inmates in preparing any administrative appeal. TDCJ may claim an extension of time to respond, of up to 70 days, if the normal time period for response is insufficient to make an appropriate decision. The Beto Unit notifies the inmate in writing of any such extension and provides a date by which a decision will be made. At any level of the administrative process, including the final level, if the inmate does not receive a response within the time allotted for reply, including any properly noticed extension, the inmate may consider the absence of a response to be a denial at that level. Inmates may be disciplined for filing a false grievance related to alleged sexual assault/abuse only where the agency demonstrates that the inmate filed the grievance in bad faith. An inmate is not punished for reporting sexual assault/abuse in cases where the allegation is substantiated or unsubstantiated, as there is no proof in these cases that the alleged sexual violence did not happen. For unfounded allegations, a determination of bad faith should be driven by the particular factors of the case. The Warden will consider the totality of circumstances and all the facts together to determine if an inmate was intentionally making a report or allegation that he or she knew was false.

Policies outline the immediate steps that are to be taken to protect inmates with a substantial risk of sexual abuse. Inmates at risk are immediately removed from the area and placed in a safe location. Staff interviews showed a thorough understanding of the steps needed to protect an inmate at risk for sexual abuse. The Office of Inspector General (OIG) conducts investigations as outlined by the PREA Standards. Investigators receive specialized training in sexual abuse investigations pursuant to Standard 115.34. When evidence appears to support criminal prosecution, the OIG conducts interviews only after consulting with prosecutors whether interviews may hinder subsequent criminal prosecution. Administrative investigations include an effort to determine whether staff actions or failures contributed to the abuse and are documented in written reports. Criminal investigations are also documented in a written report that contains a description of all evidence. Substantiated allegations of conduct that appears to be criminal are referred for prosecution and written reports are saved for a minimum of 7 years.

The TDCJ Beto Unit collects accurate, uniform data for every allegation of sexual abuse at the facility using a standardized instrument and set of definitions, and aggregates the incident-based sexual abuse data at least annually. The data collected is based on the most recent version of the Survey of Sexual Violence conducted by the Department of Justice. TDCJ reviews and collects data as needed from all available documents, including reports, investigation files, and sexual abuse incident reviews. The Beto Unit does not contract its inmates to other facilities. TDCJ provides all data from the previous calendar year to the Department of Justice upon request.
