DOJ PREA Working Group FAQ on the definition of a housing unit: How is a "housing unit" defined for the purposes of the PREA Standards? The question has been raised in particular as it relates to facilities that have adjacent or interconnected units. The most common concept of a housing unit is architectural. The generally agreed-upon definition is a space that is enclosed by physical barriers accessed through one or more doors of various types, including commercial-grade swing doors, steel sliding doors, interlocking sally port doors, etc. In addition to the primary entrance and exit, additional doors are often included to meet life safety codes. The unit contains sleeping space, sanitary facilities (including toilets, lavatories, and showers), and a dayroom or leisure space in differing configurations. Many facilities are designed with modules or pods clustered around a control room. This multiple-pod design provides the facility with certain staff efficiencies and economies of scale. At the same time, the design affords the flexibility to separately house inmates of differing security levels, or who are grouped by some other operational or service scheme. Generally, the control room is enclosed by security glass, and in some cases, this allows inmates to see into neighboring pods. However, observation from one unit to another is usually limited by angled site lines. In some cases, the facility has prevented this entirely by installing one-way glass. Both the architectural design and functional use of these multiple pods indicate that they are managed as distinct housing units.	40 / 13 – Total 53

Audit Findings

Audit Narrative

The auditor's description of the audit methodology should include a detailed description of the following processes during the pre-onsite audit, onsite audit, and post-audit phases: documents and files reviewed, discussions and types of interviews conducted, number of days spent on-site, observations made during the site-review, and a detailed description of any follow-up work conducted during the post-audit phase. The narrative should describe the techniques the auditor used to sample documentation and select interviewees, and the auditor's process for the site review.

Process

This audit of the Formby / Wheeler Complex (FW) of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) was conducted in 2019-20 to determine the facility's compliance with the standards of the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA). The facility chose to use the paper audit instruments rather than the On-line Audit System (OAS). The audit methodology strictly followed the guidance of the PREA Auditor Handbook, issued August 2017.

The lead auditor and primary author of this report is Bruce Kuennen. He received his Department of Justice (DOJ) certification to conduct audits on July 11, 2016 and was re-certified on December 31, 2019. No other auditors or support staff participated in the conduct of this audit.

A contract between the TDCJ and PREA Auditors of America (PAOA) to conduct this audit was approved on August 16, 2019. The PAOA contracted with Mr. Kuennen on September 7, 2019.

The four phases of the audit were conducted between the following dates:

- Pre-onsite – December 20, 2019 – February 11, 2020
- Onsite – February 12 – 14, 2020
- Post-onsite February 15 – April 14, 2020
- Corrective action - April 15 – September 18 2020

A kickoff meeting was conducted via a telephone conference bridge on December 20, 2019. The auditor discussed the following points with the agency's primary point of contact (POC), Brenda German and other key agency and facility staff:

- Logistics
- Facility size and population
- Shift Schedules
- Posting deadlines

Audit - Pre-onsite Phase

Logistics for the audit were handled by the auditor. The primary point of contact (POC) for the facility was originally Brenda German, an administrative assistant based in Huntsville, but Warden Gregory David assumed that role on January 7.

The required Notice of Audit was posted in all housing units and common areas of the facility, in English and Spanish, on January 2, 2020, six weeks before the onsite audit. The notice was printed on orange paper, to stand out from the other posted notices, which were primarily white. It contained the audit purpose, the dates of the on-site review, and contact information for confidential communication with the auditor. Photographic, date-stamped evidence of these notices was provided to auditor, who further verified the postings on February 12 onsite. Two letters were received from inmates, and these two inmates were interviewed on-site.

The facility provided information related to compliance with each of the standards by providing a thumb-drive to the auditor in the first week of January 2020. The responses included documents such as policies, procedures, forms, examples of completed forms and computer printouts, and statistical reports.

The thumb-drive materials were reviewed by the auditor, who initiated a series of emails with requests for further documentation, questions and comments regarding the facility's response. Supplemental information was requested on the use of video cameras, classification categories, acronyms, incident reporting, and the following standards:

- 115.12 Contracting
- 115.13 Staffing plan methodology
- 115.17 Hiring standards
- 115.22 Policies to ensure referrals
- 115.401 Access to auditor communications

Supplemental information received in response to these requests was reviewed by the PREA auditor prior to the onsite portion of the audit.

The facility was asked to produce the following lists to allow audit verification via random sampling in interviews and document reviews:

- Complete inmate roster
- Inmates with disabilities
- Inmates who have Limited English Proficiency (LEP)
- LGBTI Inmates
- Inmates in segregated housing or isolation
- Inmates who reported sexual abuse
- Inmates who reported sexual victimization during risk screening
- Complete staff roster
- All volunteers and contractors who have contact with inmates
- All grievances/allegations made in the 36 months preceding the audit
- All incident reports from the 36 months preceding the audit
- All allegations of sexual abuse and sexual harassment reported in the 36 months preceding the audit
- All hotline calls made during the 36 months preceding the audit

The facility was also asked to compile a list of sexual abuse and harassment allegations, broken down as follows:

- Total
 - Substantiated
 - Unsubstantiated
 - Unfounded
 - In progress
- Number of criminal cases
 - Referred to the OIG

- Referred for prosecution
- Indictments
- Convictions
- Acquittals
- Pending
- Number of in-house administrative case investigations

The original statistical information on sexual abuse and harassment allegations included a total of only two cases to review, so the auditor requested data for a total of three years of sexual abuse and harassment allegations.

The facility submitted the data represented in the table below. During the past four years, there were 11 total incidents or allegations of PREA-related misconduct at the facility. These numbers include allegations, incidents, and grievances. The table below summarizes the number and type of incidents/allegations:

Year	Sexual Abuse Staff on Inmate	Sexual Abuse Inmate on Inmate	Sexual Harassment Staff on Inmate	Sexual Harassment Inmate on Inmate
2016	2	1
2017	2	2	2
2018	3		1
2019			1
Total (4 years)	7	3	1
Claims / Incidents Referred for Criminal Prosecution (4 years)	0	0	0	NA
Substantiated Claims / Incidents (4 years)	0	0	0	NA

During the pre-onsite phase, the following advocacy organizations were identified

- Trans Pride Initiative - Texas office - 614 W Davis St, Suite 207, Dallas, TX 75208, Phone: (214) 449-1439, President: Nell Gaither, 214.394.9835, nell@tpride.org
- Texas Association Against Sexual Assault (TAASA); Phone: (512) 474-7190; Address: 7700 Chevy Chase Dr Ste 230 Austin, TX, 78752, info@taasa.org
- Crisis Center of the Plains, P.O. Box 326, Plainview 79073; Phone: 806-293-9772, Hotline: 806-293-7273.

Of these, the auditor identified the Crisis Center of the Plains as the most likely “community support agency responsible for education, intervention and outreach.” Further investigation indicated that the nearest SAFE/SANE provider was employed by Covenant Hospital of Plainview.

The three advocacy groups were contacted via email on January 14, 2020. No response was received from TAASA, but the auditor determined that he received adequate information from the other two organizations. Telephone interviews were conducted on January 21 and 22. The director of the Crisis Center of the Plains provided anecdotal information concerning advocacy for inmates at FW in the 3-year period since the last PREA audit. She also provided information concerning efforts to establish an MOU for advocacy and hotline services for FW.

An Internet search and an open Google Alert on “Formby-Wheeler Prison” during the first two phases of the audit yielded no information concerning FW operations and no news articles related to sexual safety. A review of the TDCJ’s website, conducted January 23, 2020, revealed a link to PREA information.

The linked page contained general information about the purposes of the federal law, and contact information for the PREA Coordinator but no information which would lead a third-party reporter to an outside advocacy agency, such as the Crisis Center of the Plains. Also included on the TDCJ website was a copy of the most recent prior PREA audit, dated March 29, 2017.

The PREA Library contains a report fully titled “I Don't Believe You, So You Might as Well Get Used to It - The Myth of PREA Zero Tolerance in Texas Prisons”, authored by the Trans Pride Initiative as Report Number 1 of their Texas Prison Abuse Series (July 2018) The library notes that this report is “Informed by correspondence with incarcerated individuals, the Trans Pride Initiative's publication highlights compliance concerns, specific concerns for LGBTQI persons, and concludes with concrete policy and practice recommendations.”

The auditor reviewed this report in detail prior to his call to the director, who was also the author of the report. She reported that no complaints of sexual abuse or harassment have been received from FW in the past five years.

The facility reported that there were no recent or current lawsuits pending, or judicial orders applicable to the prison at the time of the pre-audit questionnaire.

On February 11, the day before the on-site review, the facility provided a 3-ring binder with responses to the Pre-Audit Questionnaire (PAQ) and additional information. They also provided lists of staff to interview; however, these lists were not used. The auditor provided a methodology for choosing which inmates and staff would be interviewed.

The auditor’s basic randomization method began with a random number generator in an Excel spreadsheet – specifically, =RANDBETWEEN(1,26). Letters were chosen for each category to correspond to the number generated. 1=A, 2=B, etc. A letter is applied to each given list in this manner. For example, the facility was asked to provide the first 5 records for inmates whose last name begins with the letter P. If there were not 5 inmates whose last name began with P, they were asked to go on to Q, and so on. The letters and methodology for most categories were provided to facility staff on the last day before the on-site audit. This same method was used during the on-site audit as additional names needed to be generated.

To ensure “geographic coverage” for randomly chosen inmate interviews – i.e., to ensure that as many residential housing units as possible were represented – the auditor asked for the first two inmates from each dormitory or cell block whose last name began with the (randomly chosen) letter A.

On-site Audit Phase

All housing and common buildings were toured during the onsite audit. The auditor had unrestricted access to view and enter every area of the facility.

During the site review (tour), the auditor observed privacy barriers in shower and toilet areas, camera placements, possible blind spots, posted information, and staff monitoring of video camera feeds. The primary subject of informal questions to facility staff was the adequacy of the minimum shift coverage of each housing, work, and program area. A number of pictures were taken at the auditor's request and provided to him following the on-site visit.

Inmate interviews began on day one, with inmates chosen by the method noted above. The following inmate interviews were conducted:

- 20 Random, representing 20 different dormitory / housing units
- 1 inmate in restrictive housing
- 1 Transgender
- 2 other LGBTQI
- 1 LEP – Spanish interpreter provided by facility
- 3 disabilities
- 5 inmates who had disclosed prior sexual abuse during risk screening
- 2 inmates who had written the auditor during the pre-onsite review period

The facility reported that there were no inmates in residence who had reported sexual abuse at the facility. The auditor checked the inmate roster against the names of those who had made such reports, allegations, or grievances reported previously by the TDCJ. None were still housed at FW.

Day Two of the onsite audit began at 5:00 a.m. The auditor interviewed randomly chosen staff whose shift ended at 6:00 a.m. that morning. Their numbers are included in the summary below.

Staff interviews included the following. All were chosen randomly from lists of staff in each category (or they were the only person in the role described).

- 12 randomly chosen correctional officers (all were also first responders)
- 1 Lieutenant who was assigned to investigate incidents and allegations of sexual abuse or harassment
- 1 Major (chose the Major assigned to Wheeler, because the Major assigned to Formby had provided significant information in response to informal interviewing during the site review)
- 1 correctional officer who was assigned to work in the restrictive housing unit
- 1 representative of the classification staff (she also served as the inmate interpreter noted above)
- Mail room staff - regarding the confidentiality of correspondence to the Office of the Inspector General (OIG), to the PREA Ombudsman Office, and to the auditor.
- Both Safe Prisons Program Managers
- 1 contract program staff – education
- 1 contract medical staff
- The Regional PREA Coordinator
- Warden David Gregory

One randomly chosen volunteer was interviewed.

Documents reviewed included:

- Documents verifying initial screening and provision of educational materials to inmates
- Documents verifying subsequent education and screening
- Unit logs for the month of June for two randomly chosen dormitory units (unannounced rounds)
- Detailed investigation reports of the two most recent allegations of sexual abuse and harassment
- Criminal background checks for staff
- Staff training records

Staff interviews indicated that intake for both facilities was conducted at Formby on every weekday. Inmate interviews confirmed that all had been screened on their first day on the unit. Document review confirmed the screening for all of the records reviewed.

Document review indicated that the TDCJ screening form was completed for each inmate. The form includes a question for each required element of the standard, as well as areas for intake staff to enter objective information based on their observation of the inmate. Targeted interview with classification staff and inmate interviews indicated that inmates appeared to be housed in appropriate units.

Approximately once per week, and always within 30 days of arrival, the Safe Prisons Program Manager from Formby provides a classroom training and orientation to PREA rights, responsibilities, and reporting procedures. This class includes watching a comprehensive training and education video produced by the TDCJ Prison Ombudsman's Office.

The auditor reviewed printed materials, including the inmate handbook, pamphlets, and posted signs prior to the onsite visit. He confirmed that these materials were continuously available to inmates while on-site.

The facility has posted signs throughout the facility which list the address of the Texas Association Against Sexual Assault (TAASA). TAASA is not an agency which provides emotional support services related to sexual abuse; rather, it is an agency which maintains a directory of agencies which do provide such services. It is appropriate for the agency to provide contact information to TAASA, for inmates who wish to contact such agencies in other parts of the state where they may reside upon release.

Inmates may report incidents of sexual abuse and harassment by a variety of methods, to include 1) notify a correctional officer orally, 2) notify a correctional officer or higher ranking staff person via an inmate communication form called an "I-60", 3) notify the Safe Prisons Program Manager, 4) write the Office of Inspector General (OIG), or 5) write the PREA Ombudsman Office. The telephone system can be used to notify a family member or other approved contact to call the Warden, the OIG, or the PREA Ombudsman, but it cannot be used to call these persons or agencies directly. Interviewed inmates demonstrated a good understanding of these alternatives.

During the site review (tour) female staff announced their presence every time they entered a housing unit. While inmate answers to this interview question ranged from "sometimes" to "yes, always", it appears that gender announcement by female staff is in regular practice.

As information appeared to indicate that standard 115.53 would likely be found to not be compliant, the auditor engaged the Warden and other staff in a discussion of a corrective action plan. The final corrective action plan reflected their input.

The on-site phase of the audit concluded with an out-briefing for administrative staff and a discussion of the intent and interpretation of standard 115.53 and other related standards.

Post On-site Audit Phase

The auditor conducted one telephone interview in the week following the on-site visit, verifying information concerning staff background checks with a human resources department representative at the TDCJ Headquarters office. He reviewed the training and educational video. He then began the process of triangulating the evidence to arrive at the standards compliance findings below.

The interim report was completed and provided to the facility on April 15, 2020. One standard was found to exceed the requirements of the standard – 115.13; 43 standards were met; and one standard - 115.53 - was found to be non-compliant. The corrective action period began on that date.

This corrective action plan was included in the interim report:

Corrective Action: The facility should 1) complete a Memorandum of Understanding with the Crisis Center of the Plains (or other qualifying organization) by no later than two months following receipt of this Interim Report; 2) communicate the address and telephone number of the center to all inmates housed at the facility by the same date; 3) establish a means to communicate this information to inmates received at the facility after this date; 4) if technically feasible, add the center's hotline number to all inmates' "approved call list"; if not feasible, provide other means by which an inmate could access emotional support services via a hot line telephone call; and 5) collect and provide 3 months of documentation to include a) a copy of the MOA, b) a copy of the new posted signs and/or inmate handbook / PREA flyers by which inmates are notified of their means of accessing these services, c) data regarding inmates' use of the advocacy center, to include the number and nature of the calls made to the hot line, for a period of at least three months.

Corrective Action

The agency provided documentation of compliance with the first milestone on July 7, 2020. All details of the required steps were adequately addressed, as follows: 1) an MOU with the Crisis Center of the Plains was completed; 2) & 3) posters listing the phone number of the crisis center and summarizing the services available there were posted in all living units; 4) the agency's information technology division set up the phone lines on the facility for offenders to access the crisis center. A special pin number was created which allows the caller to remain anonymous; calls are not monitored. In addition, the calls are free - they are not charged to an offender's telephone account.

The second and final milestone was reviewed on September 18, 2020. The agency reported that the hotline had been used twice in the three-month period following its initiation. The auditor interviewed one inmate who had, at the auditor's request, tested the phone line the previous day. The inmate indicated that the line worked and that the person who answered the phone correctly advised him of the services available to inmates from the crisis center.

Facility Characteristics

The auditor's description of the audited facility should include details about the facility type, demographics and size of the inmate, resident or detainee population, numbers and type of staff positions, configuration and layout of the facility, numbers of housing units, description of housing units including any special housing units, a description of programs and services, including food service and recreation. The auditor should describe how these details are relevant to PREA implementation and compliance.

The Formby / Wheeler Complex is located at 998 County Road AA, Plainview, Texas and is operated by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. The Formby and Wheeler Units operate as separate adult correctional facilities but are overseen by a single warden and deputy warden. Together they have a designated capacity of 1,676 beds, housing 1,506 adult male inmates at the time the Pre-Audit Questionnaire was completed in December 2019. On the first day of the onsite audit, the population of the Formby Unit was 1,017 and the Wheeler Unit was 520, for a total of 1,537.

The facility houses State Jail (SJ) inmates, who come directly from county jails with sentences of up to two years, and "ID" inmates whose sentences exceed two years. With the exception of the restrictive housing unit at Formby all inmates are classified minimum security and assigned to general population (G1 or G2). The restrictive housing unit at Formby houses offenders in security detention, pre-hearing detention, protective custody, temporary detention, and transient status.

Housing at both Formby and Wheeler is primarily dormitory style. There is a restrictive housing unit, with single cells at Formby, which serves both Formby and Wheeler. A small restrictive housing unit at Wheeler has been closed for over three years. Separate buildings house dining, laundry, chapel, medical, and educational programming functions.

Educational program services are provided under contract with the Windham School District. Medical and Mental Health services are provided under contract with Texas Tech University. A large number of volunteers serve the facility, notably chaplaincy services, which is overseen by the TDCJ Chaplaincy Department.

Summary of Audit Findings

The summary should include the number and list of standards exceeded, number of standards met, and number and list of standards not met.

Auditor Note: No standard should be found to be "Not Applicable" or "NA". A compliance determination must be made for each standard.

- Safe Prisons / PREA Offender Training, dated March 2018

The agency's primary document which outlines its commitment to zero tolerance and its policies, procedures, and approach to prevent, detect, and respond to sexual abuse and sexual harassment is the Safe Prisons Plan. The current version is dated February 2019.

The agency's PREA Coordinator is the PREA Ombudsman. Her position is full-time, dedicated to overseeing the agency's efforts to comply with PREA standards. She oversees six regional PREA managers whose primary role is to support PREA compliance at each of the prisons within their regions. The agency PREA Ombudsman reports to the Texas Board of Criminal Justice, not the Executive Director of the TDCJ.

The facility has two PREA coordinators, whose titles are Safe Prisons/PREA Program Managers. Although one is primarily assigned to Formby and one to Wheeler, they work together to support PREA compliance throughout the complex. They estimated that they devote 75 to 90% of their time to PREA-related activities; both indicated that they have sufficient time, resources, and authority to complete their assigned roles.

The primary evidence that the PREA coordinators have sufficient time and authority to complete their jobs is the high percentage of standards found to meet or exceed the applicable standards. The response from 100% of the interviewed inmates and staff that they felt safe being housed or working at Formby Wheeler is further evidence that the purpose and intent of the standards is being met.

The interview with the Director of the Trans Pride Initiative indicated that her agency had received only one letter from Formby Wheeler in the last five years and that the letter was from an inmate requesting assistance in employment upon release. No complaints about Formby Wheeler were received in this five-year period.

The most compelling comments regarding the effectiveness of the facility's implementation of its zero-tolerance mandate came from inmates who have been incarcerated in the Texas prison system before and from staff who had worked within the system for a long time. Uniformly, these inmates and staff described a climate and culture before PREA implementation where sexual abuse and sexual harassment of inmates was tolerated or ignored. Uniformly, these inmates and staff who had experienced conditions before PREA implementation reported that the current climate is one of safety where sexual abuse and harassment is not tolerated, and complaints and incidents, if any, are dealt with effectively.

The reported statistic of zero substantiated complaints in the past year also supports the finding that the facility meets this standard. The auditor found no indication that complaints are low because of fear of retaliation or other reasons why complaints might be suppressed.

(N/A if the agency does not contract with private agencies or other entities for the confinement of inmates.) Yes No NA

115.12 (b)

- Does any new contract or contract renewal signed on or after August 20, 2012 provide for agency contract monitoring to ensure that the contractor is complying with the PREA standards? The agency provided contract documents for 10 correctional centers, 1 multi-use facility, 8 residential reentry centers, and 19 transitional treatment centers (residential substance abuse facilities), which are operated by private agencies and companies under contract to the TDCJ. Each specified that PREA compliance was required and that compliance was to be reported to the TDCJ.

The agency also provided a list of contacts for the Private Facility Contract Monitoring and Oversight Division which included 15 office addresses and telephone numbers. Warden Gregory assisted the auditor in generating a publicly available list of current contract facilities. The auditor matched the names and numbers of these contract facilities; the relevant language of the current, compliant contract was provided for each.

Site Review Observations

- Observations of staff on duty in housing units, program and workspaces, pickets, and other assignments
- Discussion with Majors and other staff on the units of minimum staffing at each location

The facility provided a detailed staffing plan that outlines the minimum staffing levels for both line and supervisory staff. Upon questioning by the auditor, an agency representative outlined how each of the requirements – (a) (1) through (11) was met in setting the minimum staffing levels. In addition, the facility provided documentation of an annual meeting in which the staffing plan was reviewed for each of the required 11 factors in a meeting which in 2019 was attended by the following administrative staff: Regional Director, Warden, “Warden, Security Operations”, PREA Ombudsman, and the “Staffing Coordinator, Security Operations”.

The auditor confirmed the minimum staffing levels of each housing unit during the site review. At each housing unit, he questioned facility staff as to the minimum level of staff that was always present on each unit. In the opinion of the auditor, each housing unit was generously staffed – i.e., it exceeded the minimum necessary to prevent, detect, and respond to incidents of sexual abuse and sexual harassment.

In the Formby Unit, each housing dormitory and cell block supplemented this already generous staff coverage with video cameras monitored in the “picket” or control room of each housing area and in a separate post external to the units. The feeds from these cameras are recorded, and the recordings are stored for seven days before they are overwritten. (There is no audio recording.)

The auditor viewed the camera feeds for several housing areas. There are no significant blind spots, except for toilet and shower areas, which are uniformly not observed via video camera. This includes an area where the auditor suspected that a fencing material between the cameras and the inmate bunks might block the camera view; the auditor confirmed that it did not do so. All cameras and monitors were in working order on the days of the on-site visit.

The Wheeler Unit is not equipped with cameras, but the staffing levels are similarly generous. The absence of reports of sexual abuse or harassment indicates that cameras may not be necessary at Wheeler.

The auditor also reviewed the adequacy of security staffing in work, program, and chapel areas. Here also the staffing levels appeared to be at least adequate, and in some critical areas – specifically the kitchen and laundry areas – appeared to exceed minimally adequate levels.

Supervisory staff levels are similarly generous. The full complement of staff includes a Warden, Deputy Warden, 2 Majors (one each for Formby and Wheeler), 3 Captains, 13 Lieutenants, 22 Sergeants, and 260 correctional officers. At the time of the on-site review over 95% of all positions were filled. These numbers yield overall average span of control ratios between 1:2, and 1:11, as shown on the following table.

Position	Number	Span of Control
Warden	1	1:1
Deputy Warden	1	1:2
Major	2	1:1.5
Captain	3	1:4.3
Lieutenant	13	1:1.7
Sergeant	22	1:10.9
Correctional Officer	260	--

These ratios are shown for illustration of the adequacy of the supervisory security staff. Other non-security staff, volunteers, and contractors report to the Warden, Deputy Warden, and others. Actual span of control numbers vary by shift, program, and post assignments.

Further evidence of the adequacy of supervisory staff is the very large number of unannounced supervisory rounds. The auditor chose two housing units at random, one from Formby and one from Wheeler, and a random week (in June 2019). The logs indicated over 29 unannounced visits in one week at the housing unit in Wheeler, and 40 unannounced visits at the unit in Formby. These visits covered all shifts and each day of the week. Interviews of supervisory staff indicated that staff are not forewarned of upcoming unannounced visits. As the standard does not specify a minimum number of such visits, these numbers indicate that the facility exceeds standard 115.13 (d).

The total absence of substantiated reports of sexual abuse and sexual harassment for the one-year period prior to the on-site visit is further evidence of the adequacy of the staffing levels. Likewise, inmate interviews that uncovered zero incidents of sexual abuse or harassment and a 100% reporting level of inmates feeling safe is evidence that the facility meets or exceeds this standard.

Site Review Observations

- Observation of apparent age of inmates

The facility provided a memorandum Statement of Fact signed by the Warden that the facility does not house youthful inmates. This fact was confirmed by inmate and staff interviews.

On the site review (tour) the auditor observed no inmates whose youthful appearance required him to ask for verification of age. One inmate chosen for an interview did appear to be young. The auditor verified his inmate record; he was over 18 years of age.

Twelve inmate records, chosen at random, were reviewed. None of these records indicated that an inmate was under the age of 18.

The agency and facility have policy and procedures in place if a youthful offender is housed, but all evidence reviewed indicated that they are not housed at this facility.

Site Review Observations

- Observations of staff performing pat searches
- Observations of staff performing wellness checks

Statements of facts, staff interviews, and auditor observations consistently indicated that the facility does not conduct cross-gender visual body searches. One hundred percent of inmate interviews indicated that the interviewed inmates had not been subject to such searches.

The TDCJ Safe Prisons Plan requires that correctional officers make their best efforts to allow offenders to shower, perform bodily functions, and change clothing without staff of the opposite gender viewing their breasts, buttocks, or genitalia, except in exigent circumstances or when such viewing is incidental to routine cell checks. The auditor observed physical barriers including painted windows, fences, and curtains in every toilet and shower facility and in areas where searches are conducted. Interviews indicated that shower curtains had been installed just two weeks prior to the audit; however, the auditor confirmed that the barriers to viewing were sufficient before the curtains were installed.

The TDCJ Safe Prisons Plan also requires that staff of the opposite gender announce their presence when entering an offender housing area. The auditor verified that this occurred consistently during the site review. Staff interviews also indicated that this was the practice every time. Inmate answers to this interview question ranged from “sometimes” to “every time”. In the auditor’s judgment, the facility substantially complies with this aspect of the standard.

The auditor confirmed that proper means of conducting inmate pat searches were a part of both pre-service and in-service training. All interviewed staff confirmed that they had received this training.

The auditor observed the conduct of two pat searches of male inmates by female staff. Both appeared to be conducted in compliance with the standard.

Research Observations

The TDCJ Safe Prisons plan outlines the department's requirements to effectively communicate with inmates with disabilities. Targeted inmate interviews with each of these groups – blind or low vision, deaf or hard of hearing, and intellectual or psychiatric limitations – indicated that the interviewed inmates understood their rights and the means of reporting abuse or harassment.

The facility provided a list of 33 Spanish-speaking inmates, and a list of 49 staff who are qualified Spanish interpreters. One of these interpreters assisted the auditor in the interview of a Spanish-speaking inmate who did not appear to understand the auditor's questions in English. The assisted interview went well; the inmate appeared to understand and respond appropriately to the interpreter. Interviews indicated that the facility does not use inmate interpreters.

The following materials are available in Spanish: Inmate Handbook, PREA Pamphlets, posted signs, PREA Video. Staff interviews indicated that the facility does not rely solely on printed materials to communicate with inmates; intake, education, acceptance of complaints and reports of abuse or harassment, and investigations all involve face-to-face staff/inmate contact so that an assessment can be made of the inmate's understanding of the communication.

Interviews

- Telephone interview with TDCJ Human Resources representative
- Staff interviews

Review of documents and staff interviews indicate that the facility ensures that it does not hire or promote anyone who will have contact with inmates who has engaged in prior sexual abuse or harassment at a correctional facility by the following means:

- Criminal background checks by the Texas Department of Public Safety
- Signed staff acknowledgment of affirmative duty to disclose such behavior
- Ongoing monthly criminal background checks of all such staff

These same procedures are followed for volunteers and contractors who have contact with inmates.

In addition to the multiple examples provided by the TDCJ, the auditor chose 10 names at random to verify that these procedures had been followed. An email response from the TDCJ Headquarters

Human Resources office verified that they had. A follow-up interview with the Headquarters representative confirmed the monthly checks by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

This centralized process ensures that sexual misconduct by an employee, volunteer, or contractor at one TDCJ facility does not go unreported to another TDCJ facility that intends to hire someone. Likewise, policies indicate that requests from other facilities are directed to the headquarters office.

External Interviews

- Interview with Director of the Crisis Center of the Plains

The TDCJ provides a form that lays out the procedural steps required for an investigation. When followed, the form documents the steps required by this standard –

- Access to forensic medical examinations
- Examination by SAFE or SANE practitioners where available
- Access to a victim advocate where available

Only two allegations of sexual abuse were reported and investigated by the facility administrative staff in the past year. The auditor reviewed the documentation of these investigations in detail. In both cases, the documentation indicated that the inmate was offered access to a forensic medical examination. In one of the two cases, the documentation indicated that the examination was requested and performed by a SAFE / SANE practitioner in the community, at Covenant Hospital.

The interview with the Director of the Crisis Center of the Plains indicated that she accompanied the inmate as his victim advocate at the request of Covenant Hospital. She indicated that she did so on two other occasions in the past three years.

The agency corresponded with the Crisis Center of the Plains via email in June 2018 to secure an MOU. It advised the facility of these efforts by letter in February 2019. The crisis center director advised the auditor of her willingness to sign an MOU to this effect but admitted that she had not followed through with specific actions to complete the agreement in the past year.

Neither inmate was still housed at the prison at the time of the onsite visit, so the auditor was unable to obtain verbal confirmation, but the information reviewed indicated that the standard requirements were met.

- Has the agency published such policy on its website or, if it does not have one, made the policy available through other means? Yes No
- Does the agency document all such referrals? Yes No

115.22 (c)

- If a separate entity is responsible for conducting criminal investigations, does the policy describe the responsibilities of both the agency and the investigating entity? (N/A if the agency/facility is responsible for criminal investigations. See 115.21(a).) Yes No NA

The agency has an array of policy statements by the Texas Board of Criminal Justice, the executives of the department, and the OIG which require both administrative and criminal investigations in the event of inmate or third-party allegations of sexual abuse or harassment. The facility provided documentation of such allegations made over the past four-year period. The auditor verified in documents and interviews that the three most recent allegations were thoroughly investigated.

The policies clearly delineate the responsibilities of facility administrative staff and that of the investigative agency, the Office of the Inspector General. Interviews indicated that all incidents are investigated.

The role of the OIG is specified on its website, where it is available to the public. The auditor verified that the link works during the post-onsite phase of the audit.

Video

- Safe Prisons / PREA Offender Training, dated March 2018

Inmates are received at the complex five days per week, Monday through Friday; this includes State Jail inmates transferred directly from county jails and inmates transferred from other TDCJ facilities. All incoming inmates are screened and provided written materials related to PREA at the Formby Unit on the day of their arrival. Approximately once per week, and always within 30 days of arrival, the Safe Prisons staff person from Formby provides a classroom orientation to PREA rights, responsibilities, and reporting procedures. This class includes watching a comprehensive training video produced by the TDCJ Prison Ombudsman's Office.

The auditor interviewed 20 inmates chosen at random; approximately 60% indicated that they remembered receiving the required information upon intake. Ninety percent indicated that they remembered the subsequent education sometime within the ensuing 30 days, with a typical response of "within a few weeks". Staff interviews also indicated that this is the normal process.

Documentation review of the same randomly chosen inmates indicated that 100% of the randomly chosen inmates initialed a form indicating that they had received the educational materials upon intake. Documentation further indicated that 100% of the randomly chosen inmates had received the subsequent education within 30 days.

Staff interviews indicated that the subsequent education is provided by the Formby Unit Safe Prisons staff; inmates watch a comprehensive 30-minute video and have an opportunity to ask questions. This same video is played several times each day in each of the housing areas. In the absence of the Formby Unit Safe Prisons officer, these classes are provided by the Wheeler Unit Safe Prisons officer.

All inmates come to Formby Wheeler from another institution, either another TDCJ facility or a county jail. Each of the interviewed inmates was able to articulate differences between Formby Wheeler policies, procedures, and practices and those of the facility from which they had been transferred.

Education materials and notices of inmates rights and means of reporting sexual abuse and harassment are provided in these formats, in both English and Spanish: inmate handbook, pamphlets, postings, and the video. Inmates who are unable to understand the materials for reasons of limited English proficiency or disability can have an interpreter or other assistance to help them understand the facility's policies and procedures.

Targeted inmate interviews included one inmate whose English skills were insufficient to understand all of the auditor's questions. A staff interpreter was provided for this interview and the inmate indicated that he received and understood the education materials provided him at intake and in the subsequent 30-day period.

Targeted inmate interviews also included one inmate who was partially blind, one who was hard of hearing (but not deaf), and one who had a physical disability. All were able to understand the auditor's questions without additional assistance and all verified that they had received the required educational materials. No other disabled inmates were available to interview.

Medical care is provided to Formby Wheeler inmates through a contract with the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC). TDCJ and TTUHSC policies and procedures require that this specific training is mandated and provided to all employees at both New Employee Orientation and quarterly in-service training. The training includes:

- How to detect and assess signs of sexual abuse and harassment
- How to preserve physical evidence
- How to respond effectively and professionally
- How and to whom to report allegations or suspicions of sexual abuse or harassment

Additionally, medical and mental health staff are required to view the TDCJ PREA Video once annually.

Documentation of this training is contained in TTUHSC employees' files. An interview with a randomly chosen health care employee and a review of documentation indicated that this training was received and understood.

Interviews

- Inmate interviews

The Formby Unit accepts new inmates every weekday for both the Formby and Wheeler Units. The TDCJ Safe Prisons Plan requires that all inmates received at the facility be screened within 72 hours of arrival. This screening is done at Formby on the day of arrival, i.e. within 24 hours of arrival.

The auditor reviewed 12 completed inmate screening forms; the form requires that the intake officer ask specific questions and make his or her observations of the presence of risk factors. In the auditor's opinion, these criteria are objective in nature, and they are applied objectively. The criteria include:

- Whether the inmate has a mental, physical, or developmental disability
- The age and physical build of the inmate
- Whether the inmate has previously been incarcerated
- Whether the inmate's criminal history is exclusively nonviolent
- Whether the inmate has prior convictions for sex offenses
- Whether the inmate identifies or appears to the intake officer as LGBTQI or otherwise gender nonconforming
- Previous sexual victimization
- The inmate's own perception of vulnerability
- Whether the inmate is detained solely for civil immigration purposes (Note: the facility does not house inmates solely for these purposes.)

In addition to screening inmates for their vulnerability and risk factors for victimization, the form and intake process are used to assess inmates' risk for being sexually abusive. Prior acts of sexual abuse, prior convictions for violent offenses, and prior history of institutional violence are considered.

Interviewed inmates consistently reported that they had been asked these questions on the first day of their arrival. Staff interviews also supported that the practice conforms with department policy and the standard.

TDCJ policy and procedure require that inmates be reassessed between day 15 and day 30 of their time at the facility. The facility complies with this requirement by a review conducted by the Safe Prisons PREA Program Manager (SPPPM) at the same time as he or she provides inmate education concerning PREA. Document review and inmate and staff interviews indicated that this practice is consistently followed.

An inmate's risk level can be reassessed by three different means, if warranted:

- Referral to the SPPPM
- Classification Review
- A formal investigation following a report or allegation of sexual abuse or harassment

Interviews with the SPPPMs, classification staff, and a lieutenant involved in investigations all indicated that these means can be and are used. The review of the last three formal investigations indicated that risk was re-evaluated in each case.

TDCJ policy prohibits discipline of inmates for refusing to answer screening questions, or for not disclosing complete information in response to screening inquiries. No examples of such discipline were uncovered in inmate or staff interviews. Likewise, the auditor found no instances of inappropriate dissemination of screening information.

Standard 115.42: Use of screening information

115.42 (a)

Yes No
- When making housing or other program assignments for transgender or intersex inmates, does the agency consider on a case-by-case basis whether a placement would ensure the inmate's health and safety, and whether a placement would present management or security problems? Yes No

115.42 (d)

(N/A if the agency has a dedicated facility, unit, or wing solely for the placement of LGBT or I inmates pursuant to a consent decree, legal settlement, or legal judgement.) Yes No NA

TDCJ policies and procedures govern the use of screening information in making housing, bed, work, education, and other program assignments. All describe an individualized process designed to ensure the safety of inmates, staff, and the overall facility. Staff and inmate interviews consistently indicated that the process is followed and unanimously indicated that inmates feel safe at this facility. Completed Offender Screening Forms records and other inmate indicated referrals to various assignments were made on an individualized, case-by-case basis.

Only one transgender inmate was housed at the facility at the time of the on-site audit. His interview indicated that the process was followed and that he felt safe in his current housing and program assignments. He indicated that his own opinion of his safety was considered in making the assignment to his current housing. His placement had been reviewed within the last six months. He is allowed to shower separately from other inmates.

115.43 (b)

- Do inmates who are placed in segregated housing because they are at high risk of sexual victimization have access to: Programs to the extent possible? Yes No

Site Review Observations

- Observation of restrictive housing unit at Formby
- Observation of closed restrictive housing unit at Wheeler

A review of applicable TDCJ policies, plans, and procedures indicates that alternatives are considered for all at risk offenders, not just those at risk of sexual victimization, prior to involuntary placement in restrictive housing. Likewise, all inmates in segregation have access to programs to the extent that programs can be brought to them. Restrictive housing logs and daily activity logs document the degree to which opportunities are limited and the duration of the limitation. The restrictive housing review process is conducted no less frequently than monthly.

The Offender Protection Investigation Form documents the basis for the facility's concern for the inmate's safety and the reasons why alternative means of separation cannot be arranged. Targeted staff and inmate interviews indicated that these procedures are followed in actual practice.

Site Review Observations

- Posted signs
- Mailboxes

Inmates learn of the multiple ways they can report sexual abuse or harassment in multiple ways. The ways they learn include:

- Inmate handbook
- Posted signs
- PREA Video
- Brochures and pamphlets

The internal ways include:

- Verbal report to a correctional officer or other staff
- Written report via inmate communication form (I-60) to any facility staff person
- Verbal or written report to the Safe Prisons PREA Manager for the unit

The external ways include:

- Letter to the PREA Ombudsman

- Letter to the Office of the Inspector General (OIG)
- Telephone call to the Ombudsman or OIG by a family member or other external contact

In the auditor’s judgment, the PREA Ombudsman and the OIG can both be considered external because the ombudsman reports to the Board of Criminal Justice, not to the Executive Director of the TDCJ. Board policy states “. . . the Office of the Inspector General (OIG) is the primary investigative and law enforcement entity of the TBCJ. The OIG reports directly and only to the TBCJ.” To verify the independence of the OIG, the auditor corresponded via email with a representative of that agency and discussed the issue with Warden Gregory David. Based on these discussions, the auditor believes that the OIG operates independently in its investigative role.

An I-60 form can be submitted anonymously; an anonymous report is accepted and investigated. A letter to a “special correspondent”, which includes the ombudsman’s office by policy, can be submitted sealed and without the inmate’s name.

Inmate interviews consistently verified that inmates know of the various internal and external ways of reporting. Staff interviews confirmed that they understand the importance of documenting verbal reports and the requirement to promptly pass all reports up the chain of command to be addressed. Staff interviews also verified their knowledge of policy regarding their own methods of privately reporting sexual abuse and harassment of inmates.

Standard 115.52: Exhaustion of administrative remedies

All Yes/No Questions Must Be Answered by the Auditor to Complete the Report

115.52 (a)

- Is the agency exempt from this standard? NOTE: The agency is exempt ONLY if it does not have administrative procedures to address inmate grievances regarding sexual abuse. This does not mean the agency is exempt simply because an inmate does not have to or is not ordinarily expected to submit a grievance to report sexual abuse. This means that as a matter of explicit policy, the agency does not have an administrative remedies process to address sexual abuse. Yes No

115.52 (b)

- Does the agency permit inmates to submit a grievance regarding an allegation of sexual abuse without any type of time limits? (The agency may apply otherwise-applicable time limits to any portion of a grievance that does not allege an incident of sexual abuse.) (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- Does the agency always refrain from requiring an inmate to use any informal grievance process, or to otherwise attempt to resolve with staff, an alleged incident of sexual abuse? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA

- Does the agency ensure that: An inmate who alleges sexual abuse may submit a grievance without submitting it to a staff member who is the subject of the complaint? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA

- Does the agency ensure that: Such grievance is not referred to a staff member who is the subject of the complaint? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA

115.52 (d)

- Does the agency issue a final agency decision on the merits of any portion of a grievance alleging sexual abuse within 90 days of the initial filing of the grievance? (Computation of the 90-day time period does not include time consumed by inmates in preparing any administrative appeal.) (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- If the agency claims the maximum allowable extension of time to respond of up to 70 days per 115.52(d)(3) when the normal time period for response is insufficient to make an appropriate decision, does the agency notify the inmate in writing of any such extension and provide a date by which a decision will be made? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.)
 Yes No NA
- At any level of the administrative process, including the final level, if the inmate does not receive a response within the time allotted for reply, including any properly noticed extension, may an inmate consider the absence of a response to be a denial at that level? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA

115.52 (e)

- Are third parties, including fellow inmates, staff members, family members, attorneys, and outside advocates, permitted to assist inmates in filing requests for administrative remedies relating to allegations of sexual abuse? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.)
 Yes No NA
- Are those third parties also permitted to file such requests on behalf of inmates? (If a third-party files such a request on behalf of an inmate, the facility may require as a condition of processing the request that the alleged victim agree to have the request filed on his or her behalf, and may also require the alleged victim to personally pursue any subsequent steps in the administrative remedy process.) (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- If the inmate declines to have the request processed on his or her behalf, does the agency document the inmate's decision? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.)
 Yes No NA

115.52 (f)

- Has the agency established procedures for the filing of an emergency grievance alleging that an inmate is subject to a substantial risk of imminent sexual abuse? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- After receiving an emergency grievance alleging an inmate is subject to a substantial risk of imminent sexual abuse, does the agency immediately forward the grievance (or any portion thereof that alleges the substantial risk of imminent sexual abuse) to a level of review at which immediate corrective action may be taken? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.)
 Yes No NA

- After receiving an emergency grievance described above, does the agency provide an initial response within 48 hours? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- After receiving an emergency grievance described above, does the agency issue a final agency decision within 5 calendar days? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- Does the initial response and final agency decision document the agency's determination whether the inmate is in substantial risk of imminent sexual abuse? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- Does the initial response document the agency's action(s) taken in response to the emergency grievance? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA
- Does the agency's final decision document the agency's action(s) taken in response to the emergency grievance? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA

115.52 (g)

- If the agency disciplines an inmate for filing a grievance related to alleged sexual abuse, does it do so ONLY where the agency demonstrates that the inmate filed the grievance in bad faith? (N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) Yes No NA

- Inmates are not required to use an informal grievance process to resolve an alleged incident of sexual abuse
- Inmates are not required to submit a grievance to a staff member who is the subject of a complaint
- Such grievances are not referred to a staff member who is the subject of a complaint
- The agency issues a final decision within 90 days of the initial filing of the grievance, such 90-day period not including the inmate's time preparing an administrative appeal
- If the agency claims an extension of time to respond, it will notify the inmate in writing of the extension and provide a date by which a decision will be made
- Third parties are permitted to assist inmates in filing requests for administrative remedies, and to file such requests on behalf of inmates
- The agency will document an inmate's decision to decline assistance
- Emergency grievances may be filed if an inmate alleges that he is at substantial risk of imminent sexual abuse
- Emergency grievances are immediately forwarded to a level of review at which corrective action can be taken, a response is provided within 48 hours, and a final agency decision is issued within 5 calendar days.
- The determination of substantial risk and the action taken are documented

Although there were no cases to review to test these plans and procedures in practice, interviews with responsible administrative staff indicated that such procedures would be followed. In the auditor's judgment, the facility complies in all material ways with this standard.

All Yes/No Questions Must Be Answered by the Auditor to Complete the Report

115.53 (a)

External Research

- Test calls to painted PREA hot line number
- Web site of Texas Association Against Sexual Abuse

The facility has posted signs throughout the facility which list the address of the Texas Association Against Sexual Assault (TAASA). TAASA is not an agency which provides emotional support services related to sexual abuse; rather, it is an agency which maintains a directory of agencies which do provide such services. It is appropriate for the agency to provide contact information to TAASA, for inmates who wish to contact such agencies in other parts of the state where they may reside upon release, but TAASA itself is not a direct service provider.

The signs also include a toll-free phone number to contact this agency. However, the phone number is not a current, accurate number to reach TAASA. When the auditor attempted to call this number on day 3 of the on-site audit, he reached an automated service attempting to sell medical equipment.

This same inaccurate number was painted on the wall above or near the telephones in all the units (except restricted housing), with the notation "PREA HOT LINE 888-XXX-XXXX". Staff and inmate interviews indicated that inmates could not use the provided telephones to dial this number; policy, procedure, and practice only allows inmates to call numbers on their approved list. Interviewed inmates believed that they could at least give this number to a family member. Staff and inmates acknowledged that not all inmates have family or other outside contacts to make this call for them.

During the pre-onsite phase of the audit the auditor interviewed the Executive Director of the Crisis Center of the Plains, an outside victim advocacy organization located in the same town as the facility, Plainview, TX, The director indicated that her agency is willing to provide emotional support services related to sexual abuse to inmates of the prison, including an existing hotline service with 24-hour / 7-day-per-week bi-lingual (Spanish / English) trained staff. She reported that she had read and was willing to sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) which had been sent to her in 2019, but that she had not done her part to follow-up on last year's TDCJ request. (She indicated that she went to the facility twice in 2017 for a scheduled appointment with the warden. On the first attempt, she reported that she was told that he could not meet with her due to a lockdown. On the second attempt she reported that the warden was not available, but she was not given a reason.)

On the second day of the on-site review, the facility posted the P.O. Box address for the Crisis Center of the Plains on bulletin boards in inmate housing areas, replacing the notices that the auditor had observed the day before. However, they did not post the hotline or other phone number for the Crisis Center for the Plains. On day 2, they also painted over the PREA hot line notations on the walls near the telephones.

The auditor originally found that the facility was not compliant with this standard because it had not provided meaningful access to an outside victim advocacy organization where one was readily available. Further, he found that it did not provide hotline access to this or any advocacy organization even though one was available.

The TDCJ provided documentation that they wrote to the Crisis Center of the Plains in February 2019 and provided them with a draft MOU. They did not provide documentation that further efforts had been made to complete this agreement prior to the on-site visit.

Corrective Action: The following recommended corrective action plan was included in the interim report. The facility should 1) complete a Memorandum of Understanding with the Crisis Center of the Plains (or other qualifying organization) by no later than two months following receipt of this Interim Report; 2) communicate the address and telephone number of the center to all inmates housed at the facility by the same date; 3) establish a means to communicate this information to inmates received at the facility after this date; 4) if technically feasible, add the center's hotline number to all inmates' "approved call list"; if not feasible, provide other means by which an inmate could access emotional support services via a hot line telephone call; and 5) collect and provide 3 months of documentation to include a) a copy of the MOA, b) a copy of the new posted signs and/or inmate handbook / PREA flyers by which inmates are notified of their means of accessing these services, c) data regarding inmates' use of the advocacy center, to include the number and nature of the calls made to the hot line, for a period of at least three months.

Corrective Action

The agency provided documentation of compliance with the first milestone on July 7, 2020. All details of the required steps were adequately addressed, as follows: 1) an MOU with the Crisis Center of the Plains was completed; 2) & 3) posters listing the phone number of the crisis center and summarizing the services available there were posted in all living units; 4) the agency's information technology division set up the phone lines on the facility for offenders to access the crisis center. A special pin number was created which allows the caller to remain anonymous; calls are not monitored. In addition, the calls are free - they are not charged to an offender's telephone account.

The second and final milestone was reviewed on September 18, 2020. The agency reported that the hotline had been used twice in the three-month period following its initiation. The auditor interviewed one inmate who had, at the auditor's request, tested the phone line the previous day. The inmate indicated that the line worked and that the person who answered the phone correctly advised him of the services available to inmates from the crisis center.

Board and Executive Policy Directives require that the facility receive reports of sexual abuse and harassment from third parties, including other agencies, public officials, family members, or a member of the public. This policy is communicated to inmates by way of the inmate handbook and to these groups by way of a general information guide, which can be easily accessed on the TDCJ website.

Of four grievances reported by the facility for the last year, one was received from a third party, and it was handled in compliance with this standard. Staff interviews confirmed that this is the normal practice.

Board policy, executive and administrative directives, and staff training require immediate reporting of circumstances placing an inmate in immediate risk of sexual abuse, and action to protect the inmate in danger. These same policies clarify that such reporting is limited to the extent necessary to allow administrators to make treatment, investigation, and other management decisions. Staff interviews and signed Employee Acknowledgement Forms consistently demonstrated an understanding of these requirements.

Likewise, medical and mental health providers are required by policy, procedure, and initial training to report such circumstances, and to inform inmates of this duty and the limits of confidentiality. The targeted medical staff interview and signed Contract Employee or Intern Training Acknowledgment Forms demonstrated an understanding of these requirements.

Policy and procedure dictate the requirement that if the alleged victim is under the age of 18 or considered a vulnerable adult, the agency shall report the allegation to the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services, Child Protective Services. The facility does not house persons under 18 years of age.

Policy and procedure require the facility to report all allegations of sexual abuse and harassment to the Office of the Inspector General (OIG). Staff interviews demonstrated an understanding of this requirement.

The auditor's review of Board Policy, TDCJ Plans, and the electronic Emergency Action Center (EAC) System indicates that the facility has plans and procedures in place to ensure the following:

- Reports to and from other facilities within the department are communicated immediately within the agency via the EAC. The report can be initiated in the system by the facility receiving the allegation, transmitted instantaneously to the facility where the abuse is alleged to have taken place and then completed by the investigative staff there.
- Allegations of abuse at facilities outside the TDCJ are telephonically reported to the head of that facility, no later than 72 hours after the receipt of the allegation.
- The EAC is used to document such notifications.

Staff interviews and the EAC System demonstration verified that these policies are carried out in practice.

Staff and contract staff interviews and signed employee and contract staff acknowledgement forms consistently demonstrated an understanding of these requirements.

All Yes/No Questions Must Be Answered by the Auditor to Complete the Report

The Offender Investigation Form documents each step in the coordinated process, with each relevant actor's actions, decisions, and reviews documented on a single form, with attachments for the original complaint, medical documentation, photographs, electronic records system reports, and documents from outside agencies such as the local hospital and the OIG.

The auditor reviewed the documentation of the last three incidents which required this formal process. In his opinion, the process appears to be smoothly coordinated and well-documented. Staff interviews confirmed this opinion.

Standard 115.66: Preservation of ability to protect inmates from contact with abusers

All Yes/No Questions Must Be Answered by the Auditor to Complete the Report

115.66 (a)

- Are both the agency and any other governmental entities responsible for collective bargaining on the agency's behalf prohibited from entering into or renewing any collective bargaining agreement or other agreement that limits the agency's ability to remove alleged staff sexual abusers from contact with any inmates pending the outcome of an investigation or of a determination of whether and to what extent discipline is warranted? Yes No

- Auditor is not required to audit this provision.

Interviews

- Staff interviews

The auditor's review of the above-listed executive directives found no evidence of a collective bargaining agreement or other agreement that limits the agency's ability to remove alleged staff sexual abusers from contact with any inmates pending the outcome of an investigation or of a determination of whether and to what extent discipline is warranted. In fact, the directives require this separation and prohibit retaliation by accused staff against inmates bringing such complaints. Staff interviews confirmed that this is the policy and procedure that is followed in the event of an inmate complaint of sexual abuse by staff.

Standard 115.67: Agency protection against retaliation

All Yes/No Questions Must Be Answered by the Auditor to Complete the Report

115.67 (a)

- Does the agency employ multiple protection measures, such as housing changes or transfers for inmate victims or abusers, removal of alleged staff or inmate abusers from contact with victims, and emotional support services, for inmates or staff who fear retaliation for reporting sexual abuse or sexual harassment or for cooperating with investigations? Yes No

115.67 (c)

- Except in instances where the agency determines that a report of sexual abuse is unfounded, for at least 90 days following a report of sexual abuse, does the agency: Monitor the conduct and treatment of inmates or staff who reported the sexual abuse to see if there are changes that may suggest possible retaliation by inmates or staff? Yes No

Safe Prisons / PREA Operations Manual 5.08 outlines the plan to monitor an inmate's housing, program, and disciplinary status for 90 days following the investigation of an incident of sexual abuse. A separate Offender 90-day Monitoring Form now appears to have been incorporated into the Offender Investigation Form. An Interoffice Communication designates who is responsible for such reviews. Policies dictate the prohibitions against retaliation and the disciplinary consequences for those who do so.

The auditor reviewed the documentation of the last three incidents which were investigated. While retaliation review was only documented for one of the three incidents, none of the three allegations were determined to have been founded, so retaliation review was not required by this standard. Staff and the Warden interviews confirmed that 90-day retaliation review is conducted when allegations are determined to be founded.

Site Review Observations

- Observation of restrictive housing unit at Formby
- Observation of closed restrictive housing unit at Wheeler

A review of applicable TDCJ policies, plans, and procedures indicates that alternatives are considered for all at risk offenders, not just those at risk of sexual victimization, prior to involuntary placement in restrictive housing. Likewise, all inmates in segregation have access to programs to the extent that programs can be brought to them. Restrictive housing logs and daily activity logs document the degree to which opportunities are limited and the duration of the limitation. The restrictive housing review process is conducted no less frequently than monthly.

The Offender Protection Investigation Form documents the basis for the facility's concern for the inmate's safety and the reasons why alternative means of separation cannot be arranged. Targeted staff and inmate interviews indicated that these procedures are followed in actual practice.

- When the agency learns that the staff member has been indicted on a charge related to sexual abuse in the facility
- When the agency learns that the staff member has been convicted on a charge related to sexual abuse within the facility

unless the agency has determined that the allegation is unfounded, or unless the inmate has been released from custody.

Further, TDCJ policies and directives require notification of the reporting inmate following his allegation that he or she has been sexually abused by another inmate, that the agency subsequently inform the alleged victim

- When the agency learns that the alleged abuser has been indicted on a charge related to sexual abuse within the facility
- When the agency learns that the alleged abuser has been convicted on a charge related to sexual abuse within the facility

These notifications are documented by one or more of the following forms:

TDCJ policies, plans, and directives all require that contractors and volunteers who have been found to engage in sexual abuse be prohibited from contact with inmates. Likewise, they require that incidents of sexual abuse be reported to law enforcement and the appropriate licensing agencies. In the case of medical staff, the contractor, Texas Tech University follows the requirements of the appropriate licensing agencies – the Texas Board of Nursing, the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services, and the Texas Board of Medicine. In the case of educational program staff, the Windham School District reports such incidents to the State Board for Educator Certification.

In the case of any other violation of agency sexual abuse or sexual harassment policies by a contractor or volunteer, policy requires that the facility take appropriate remedial measures, and consider whether to prohibit further contact with inmates

Email correspondence and staff, contractor, and volunteer interviews indicate that these policies are followed in practice.

Standard 115.78: Disciplinary sanctions for inmates

All Yes/No Questions Must Be Answered by the Auditor to Complete the Report

Yes No

115.78 (g)

- If the agency prohibits all sexual activity between inmates, does the agency always refrain from considering non-coercive sexual activity between inmates to be sexual abuse? (N/A if the agency does not prohibit all sexual activity between inmates.) Yes No NA

TDCJ policies, plans, and directives all require that

- Offenders are subject to disciplinary sanctions pursuant to a formal disciplinary process following an administrative finding that the offender engaged in offender-on-offender sexual abuse, sexual harassment, extortion, substantiated acts of violence, or following a criminal finding of guilt for offender-on-offender sexual abuse.
- Sanctions are appropriate to the nature of abuse committed, the offender's disciplinary history, and the sanction imposed for comparable offenses by other offenders with similar histories.
- The disciplinary process considers whether an offender's mental disabilities or mental illness contributed to his behavior when determining what type of sanction, if any, should be imposed.

- The unit offers therapy, counseling, or other interventions designed to address and correct possible underlying reasons or motivations for the abuse, and consideration is made to determine if participation should be a requirement for access to programming or other benefits.
- An offender may be disciplined for sexual contact with staff only if it is determined the staff member did not consent to the contact.
- Disciplinary actions related to staff-on-offender sexual abuse or sexual harassment violations are handled in accordance with TDCJ Policy 22, “General Rules of Conduct and Disciplinary Action Guidelines for Employees.”
- Sexual misconduct between offenders is prohibited and when discovered, it results in disciplinary sanctions in accordance with the TDCJ Disciplinary Rules and Procedures for Offenders. However, sexual misconduct between offenders is not considered sexual abuse if it is determined the activity is consensual.
- Engaging in consensual sexual acts with others, defined as “intentional contact between the genitals of one person and the genitals, mouth, anus, or hands of another person with the consent of both participants” is considered a lesser disciplinary violation.
- A report of sexual abuse made in good faith, based on a reasonable belief that the alleged conduct occurred, does not in itself constitute falsely reporting an incident of lying, even if an investigation does not establish evidence sufficient to substantiate the allegation.
- When the preponderance of evidence exists supporting a false allegation, the offender involved in the false allegation shall be disciplined in accordance with the TDCJ Disciplinary Rules and Procedures for Offenders.

Special considerations are required for offenders charged with or suspected of a disciplinary infraction who are developmentally disabled or psychiatric patients. The applicable procedures are specified in the Developmentally Disabled Plan and the Correctional Managed Health Care Policy Manual. These procedures are followed when dealing with developmentally disabled offenders or psychiatric patients.

Email correspondence and staff, contractor, and volunteer interviews indicate that these policies are followed in practice.

The screening forms included in these policies (as attachments) are used daily at the facility. Four targeted inmate interviews confirmed that this referral was made.

TDCJ policy requires that the use of any information related to sexual victimization or abusiveness that occurred in an institutional setting is strictly limited to medical and mental health practitioners and other staff, as necessary, who are assisting with making treatment plans and other management decisions, including those related to housing, bed, work, education, and program assignments, or as otherwise required by federal, state, or local law.

TDCJ policies require an administrative review of all alleged sexual abuse and staff sexual harassment incidents, unless determined unfounded. The warden is required to obtain input from security supervisors, investigators, and medical or mental health practitioners when completing the review. The review team includes upper-level management, with input from line supervisors, investigators, and medical or mental health practitioners. The facility is required to implement recommendations that result from the review, or to document the reasons for not doing so.

TDCJ Administrative Directive 02.15 requires, the warden or supervisor to conduct a prompt, thorough investigation, after reporting a serious or unusual incident and to complete an Administrative Incident Review. The review is required to include:

- A review of the circumstances of the incident
- The name(s) of the person(s) involved
- Events leading up to and following the incident
- A consideration of whether the actions taken were consistent with TDCJ policies and procedures
- A review of whether lesser alternative means of managing the situation were available
- An identification of actions, if any, that could be taken to avoid future incidents of a similar nature and identification of training needs

The review is required to be submitted with 20 days of notification of the Emergency Action Center. The current listing of the Unit Investigative Team members includes sergeants, captains, and both majors.

Although not specifically required by the policies cited, the reviews reviewed by the auditor included:

- Consideration of whether the allegation or investigation indicated a need to change policy or practice to better prevent, detect, or respond to sexual abuse
- Consideration of whether the incident or allegation was motivated by race; ethnicity; gender identity; lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, or intersex identification, status, or perceived status; gang affiliation; or other group dynamics at the facility
- Examination of the area in the facility where the incident allegedly occurred to assess whether physical barriers in the area may enable abuse
- An assessment of the adequacy of staffing levels in that area
- An assessment of whether monitoring technology should be deployed or augmented to supplement supervision by staff

The auditor's review of incident review records and staff interviews indicates that these policies and the other requirements of the standard are followed in practice.
