Number of buildings: Auditors should count all buildings that are part of the facility, whether residents are formally allowed to enter them or not. In situations where temporary structures have been erected (e.g., tents) the auditor should use their discretion to determine whether to include the structure in the overall count of buildings. As a general rule, if a temporary structure is regularly or routinely used to hold or house residents, or if the temporary structure is used to house or support operational functions for more than a short period of time (e.g., an emergency situation), it should be included in the overall count of buildings.	1
Number of resident housing units: Enter 0 if the facility does not have discrete housing units. DOJ PREA Working Group FAQ on the definition of a housing unit: How is a "housing unit" defined for the purposes of the PREA Standards? The question has been raised in particular as it relates to facilities that have adjacent or interconnected units. The most common concept of a housing unit is architectural. The generally agreed-upon definition is a space that is enclosed by physical barriers accessed through one or more doors of various types, including commercial-grade swing doors, steel sliding doors, interlocking sally port doors, etc. In addition to the primary entrance and exit, additional doors are often included to meet life safety codes. The unit contains sleeping space, sanitary facilities (including toilets, lavatories, and showers), and a dayroom or leisure space in differing configurations. Many facilities are designed with modules or pods clustered around a control room. This multiple-pod design provides the facility with certain staff efficiencies and economies of scale. At the same time, the design affords the flexibility to separately house residents of differing security levels, or who are grouped by some other operational or service scheme. Generally, the control room is enclosed by security glass, and in some cases, this allows residents to see into neighboring pods. However, observation from one unit to another is usually limited by angled site lines. In some cases, the facility has prevented this entirely by installing one-way glass. Both the architectural design and functional use of these multiple pods indicate that they are managed as distinct housing units.	3

Summary of Audit Findings

During the past 12 months, Carr P. Collins Social Service Center reported one allegation of sexual harassment, this allegation resulted in an investigation by the Associate Program Manager, in accordance with agency policy. All criminal allegations are referred to the Dallas Police Department, in accordance with current policies. An incident review is conducted for PREA related cases as well as with all serious incidents. The agency is policy driven and has developed and implemented a policy for nearly every provision of each standard. The Auditor made an effort to accurately reflect the applicable agency policies for each provision of each standard. In reviewing each provision and the applicable policy, the Auditor reviewed applicable documentation and/or interviewed staff to confirm the policy had been implemented. Based on staff and resident interviews, there was a strong indication the PREA standards are implemented as required and in accordance with the agency's policies. The interviews of residents reflected they were aware of PREA and acknowledged familiarity with how they could report allegations of sexual abuse and sexual harassment.

All residents interviewed reported feeling safe at the facility. The Auditor noted that residents receive the PREA information verbally and in written format (Resident Handbook, PREA brochures) during intake. The residents interviewed indicated that they were aware of and understood the agency's Zero Tolerance Policy and what it meant for their protection. The residents stated they understood the multiple ways to report sexual abuse and harassment and how to protect themselves. The residents were able to describe how to report and what they would do if they were abused or threatened with abuse. They indicated that they felt safe and there was an open communication line between themselves and the facility staff. All staff, including specialized and contract staff interviewed indicated they were knowledgeable of PREA and of their roles and responsibilities related to reporting requirements as well as awareness of the procedures to follow if they are the first responders to any PREA related allegation.

Documentation reviewed, reflected the agency's implementation of policies and procedures to meet the PREA standards. The Auditor interviewed the SAFE/SANE nurse telephonically to confirm the service agreement as it correlates to services rendered for the Carr P. Collins Social Service Center and to verify that the service would be available if needed. In addition, the Auditor interviewed onsite contractors to verify they had received the zero-tolerance and other training required by PREA.

In summary, after review of all documentation, the results of the interview process and the observations during the onsite facility review, the Auditor believes Carr P. Collins Social Service Center Facility Director and her staff have a strong commitment to the PREA process.

POLICY AND DOCUMENT REVIEW:

PREA Policy

Pre-Audit Questionnaire.

Agency Zero Tolerance statement.

Organizational charts, interviews, and memos.

FINDINGS:

Agency PREA Policy addresses the requirements of this provision. The agency mandates a zero-tolerance policy towards all forms of sexual abuse and sexual harassment and outlines the agency's strategies on preventing, detecting, and responding to such conduct.

Agency policies addressed "Preventing" sexual abuse and sexual harassment through the designation of a PREA Coordinator and PREA Compliance Manager, Criminal History Background Checks (Staff, Contractors, and Volunteers, as applicable), Training (Staff, Volunteers, and Contractors), Staffing, Intake Screening, Resident Education/Programming, Posting of Signage (PREA Posters, etc....), and Contract Monitoring. The policies addressed "Detecting" sexual abuse and sexual harassment through Training (Staff, Volunteers, and Contractors), and Intake Screening.

The PREA Policy, addressed "Responding" to allegations of sexual abuse and sexual harassment through Reporting, Investigations, Victim Services, Medical and Mental Health Services, Disciplinary Sanctions for Staff (including notification of licensing agencies), Incident Review Teams, and Data Collections and Analysis. The Auditor noted the Resident Handbook, PREA Posters, and PREA Brochure do address sexual abuse by another resident, and the resident Handbook does address sanctions for residents when involved in such conduct. Based on staff interviews and a review of practices, it was noted staff closely monitor for resident-on-resident sexual misconduct in accordance with PREA, allegations are reported and investigated, and residents are held accountable.

POLICY AND DOCUMENT REVIEW:

INTERVIEWS:

Director, PREA Coordinator and PREA Compliance Manager.

FINDINGS:

The facility has developed a staffing plan to safely meet the PREA and security needs, the facility fills the mandatory positions to meet the necessary post staffing requirements when vacancies occur. The facility uses overtime/comp time or collapsing non-custody positions to meet a safe staffing mandate required as written on their annual staffing plan.

The facility reported no deviations from the custody staffing plan for the past 12 months. The average daily population since and to which the staffing plan is based is 224 residents.

Unannounced rounds are conducted for all shifts and are recorded by senior management staff. Post logbooks were reviewed by the Auditor for verification.

Staff reported the resident to staff ratios are followed and sometimes mandatory overtime/comp time is implemented. Staff reported blind spots have been identified and mitigated and a staffing plan is in place.

Staff reported they follow the agency policies and PREA standards, take into consideration the composition of the resident population and their needs, scheduled programming, and staff placement. Additionally, staff reported other relevant factors considered include the needs of the LGBTI residents and incidents of substantiated and unsubstantiated sexual abuse. Staff reported, to ensure compliance with the staffing plan, they monitor during shifts, review folders, check-in sheets, documentation, resident files, thoroughly review serious incident reports, and audit sheets, as applicable. List of background checks on current employees.

FINDINGS:

A list of background checks on current employees, address this provision. Agency policy defines staff to include interns, volunteer, or contracted program services staff. The agency contractors and volunteers are all subjected to a criminal background check, including a fingerprint-based background check. Interviews of 12 randomly selected staff, contract staff and sampled HR files indicated timely criminal background checks. All files reflected the three required questions in this provision are included and staff affirmed by signing the form.

The audited facility has an on-site HR position that manages the recruitment files and hiring process. The agency policies require job applicants to have background checks completed looking at any issue of prior sexual misconduct. All contractors are screened by using the same process.

The facility reported 21 (100%) new employees/applicants background checks were made, and zero contractor background checks were completed in the past 12 months. Documentation and files were reviewed by the auditor to confirm the process. Agency policies also require an annual re-check of all employees and contractors. The agency policy does indicate that any employee/contractor misconduct or false reporting is subject to the possibility of termination of employment. The HR Manager also indicated that the agency will respond to any request for information from an institutional employer seeking information on a former employee.
