

Course 1019 – Trans-Disciplinary Ethical Principles & Responsibilities in Professional Counseling

6. Which of these important moral and ethical issues are discussed on the Ethical Principle of Counseling Relationship with the client?
 - a. Non-discrimination
 - b. Non-sexual abuse or exploitation of client
 - c. Informing clients of fees for services to be provided
 - d. Receiving commission or rebates or any other form of remuneration for referral of clients for professional services.
 - e. Termination of services to client
 - f. All the above
 - g. A-C

7. On relationships issues between Counseling Professionals it is acceptable for a counselor to file or encourage the filing of ethics or other complaints that they know, or reasonably should know, are frivolous.
 - a. True
 - b. False

8. In relationships with other counseling professionals it is appropriate to offer professional services to a client in counseling with another professional with or without the knowledge of the other professional.
 - a. True
 - b. False

9. According to the Code of Ethics of American Counseling Association we must keep information related to counseling services confidential. It also states that disclosure is made only when _____:
 - a. _____
 - b. _____
 - c. _____

10. Besides the legal enactment of laws and regulations governing confidentiality regulations and compliance, what is the essential benefit of confidentiality regulation and compliance to the counseling professions?

11. The confidentiality laws and regulations guiding the alcohol and drug treatment in the United States were meant to achieve the purposes of:
 - a. _____
 - b. _____
 - c. _____
 - d. _____

Course 1019 – Trans-Disciplinary Ethical Principles & Responsibilities in Professional Counseling

12. Three ethical and professional responsibilities of a professional counselor are named below. Name two other professional responsibilities of importance.
- Licensure must practice only within the boundaries of their competence
 - Must engage in continuing education
 - Licensee must refrain from offering professional service when their personal problems or conflicts may cause harm to client or others
 - _____
 - _____
13. The ethical principles governing evaluation, assessment, and interpretation of tests requires a counseling professional remain and practice within the scope of their training, certification, or licensure level as demanded by the profession's governing board, and the state or federal statutes. What other four requirements does this ethical principle demand?
14. The Ethical Principles governing the issue of research and publication by professional requires that the Psychologists "must obtain informed consent from research participants." What information shall the Psychologist provide participants in this process?
15. One of the ethical responsibilities of counselors involved in teaching, training, and supervision of interns is not to endorse a supervisee for certification or credentialing if the supervisor has documented proof of impairment or professional limitations that would interfere with the performance of counseling duties in a competent and ethical manner.
- True
 - False
16. One of the ethical principles guiding the issues of teaching, training and supervision for counselors is that the supervisors and supervisees shall be aware of and stay abreast of changes in professional and ethical standards and legal responsibilities.
- True
 - False

Course 1019 – Trans-Disciplinary Ethical Principles & Responsibilities in Professional Counseling

Please Complete the Following:

(Please write legibly)

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Your TDCJ Division or Contracted Provider: _____

License Type & Number: _____

Date Session Completed: _____

Was the session of value to you? 1 2 3 4
 Not at all Somewhat Mostly Very

How and why?

What suggestions do you have for making the materials more relevant for you and your job?

If you have additional comments, you can write on the back or attach extra pages.

Send this completed test and your evaluation to:

TDCJ/RPD
Sonya McCray - Staff Development and Training Coordinator
Two Financial Plaza Drive, Suite 370
Huntsville, TX 77340
Phone 936-437-2830