BOARD POLICY

SUBJECT: REVOCATION HEARINGS – PENDING CRIMINAL CHARGES

PURPOSE: To establish a policy statement of the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles regarding revocation hearings for offenders with pending charges.

DISCUSSION: The Texas Department of Criminal Justice Parole Division (Division) is authorized by statute to issue warrants for offenders on parole or mandatory supervision under certain circumstances. When an offender is arrested on the warrant, a Division Parole Officer provides the offender notice of the alleged violations of parole or mandatory supervision and notifies him of his right to request or waive his right to a preliminary and/or revocation hearing. If an offender requests a hearing, it is the Parole Officer’s duty and responsibility to notify the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles (Board). When the Board receives the Parole Officer’s request to schedule a hearing, the Board shall schedule and conduct the hearing.

POLICY: It is the policy of the Board, after a proceed to revocation hearing decision, to schedule and conduct a revocation hearing when an offender requests a hearing. A revocation hearing for an offender in custody in a Texas county jail will be scheduled and conducted after the disposition of the pending criminal charge. However, when the hearing officer determines that an indictment or information has not been filed for the pending criminal charge, a revocation hearing may be scheduled at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing to ensure compliance with the statutory requirement to dispose of the charges by the 41st day of the offender’s arrest on the Division’s warrant.
